Crew of 31 Dead When Submarine Is Raised

HURRIED RESCUE ATTEMPT FOILED BY POISON GASES

Italian Boat F-14 Is Brought to Surface of Adriatic 34 Hours After Ship Collision.

TAPPING FOR HELP SUDDENLY ENDS

Some of Entombed Men Believed To Have Met Quick Death Since Part of Craft Flooded.

Rome, Aug. 7.—(AP)—The Italian submarine F-14 with its crew of 31 dead from poisonous gases was brought to the surface of the Adriatic tonight in which it had sunk after a collision 34 hours before.

The weary salvagers, who had performed almost a naval miracle in retrieving the submarine from a depth of 131 feet, peered hopefully into the opened hatches only to find they were gazing into the tomb of their comrades.

Signals Cease.
They had been forewarned of the tragedy when during the afternoon the submarine craft had suddenly ceased. They continued to drive at their task, however, in the hope that the ominous silence meant simply that the crew had withdrawn to a safer part of the submarine, or at worst, that they were simply weakened by the difficulty of breathing in the fouled air. The revelation that all were dead came as a shock.

At least a few of the crew were believed to have escaped the torture of the helpless wait at the bottom of the sea for rescue for the stern compartment of the F-14 was flooded when the sharp bow of the destroyer Giuseppe Missori rode over the emerging craft.

Two Officers Die.
Captain Weil and Commander Fasulo were the officers who died in the submarine. Normally craft of the size of the F-14 would carry 25 men but there were several apprentice motorists on board during the battle maneuvers in which the fleet was engaged.

There were many factors in the race.

BRENNAN'S FAMILY AND DOCTORS LOSE HOPE FOR RECOVERY

Chicago, August 7.—(AP)—Hope for the recovery of George E. Brennan, democratic national committeeman for Illinois, who has been seriously ill from septic poisoning for more than a week, was abandoned by his family and physicians today.

State Representative Joseph Gill, Mr. Brennan's brother-in-law, said: "We have been given to understand that it is just a matter of time until his death."

Dr. C. R. G. Forrester, specialist in charge of Mr. Brennan's case, said his patient might live for 36 hours, depending upon his vitality.

Brennan grew worse as night came on and lapsed into unconsciousness.

HAY LEADS COLLET IN MISSOURI VOTE

Reed's Candidate Trail- ing as First Ballots Are Tabulated; Three Other States Hold Elections.

St. Louis, August 7.—(AP)—Charles M. Hay, of St. Louis, and Roscoe C. Patterson, of Springfield, United States district attorney at Kansas City, tonight were leading, respectively, in the races for the democratic and republican nominations for United States senator as early returns from the statewide primary piled up.

Francis M. Wilson, of Platte City, and Henry S. Caulfield, St. Louis, were the respective leaders in the contests for the democratic and republican nomination for governor.

Hay was more than 16,000 votes ahead of his chief opponent, James A. Collet, of Salisbury, candidate for the democratic senatorial nomination backed by Senator James A. Boyd. Returns from 506 of the 4,134 precincts gave Hay 33,528; Collet, 17,500; Robert I. Young, farmer candidate of St. Joseph, 5,463.

The race for the republican senatorial nomination was closer with Pat-

Governor Roasts Administration and Demands Complete Reorganization of Department.

ASSERTS "MACHINE" IS BACKING RIVERS

Change From County Unit to State Unit System Necessary for Progress, Executive Says.

Charging that the state highway department has "wasted" its funds through the construction of "crazy-quilt" roads, has brought adverse advertisement to the state of Georgia throughout the union, and that it has utterly failed in giving the state a through system of highways, Governor L. G. Hardman issued a statement Tuesday declaring that he will favor the submission of a bond issue to the people provided the present highway department "is reorganized and road construction and road maintenance are placed on a sound business basis under the supervision of expert road builders and business men in whom the people have confidence."

"First of all, the highway department and the political machine it has built up through its army of employees and maintenance men and which is being engineered by its chief for the purpose of keeping business out of government must be thrown under the scrap heap," the governor said.

In his statement the governor charges that this "machine" is supporting State Senator E. D. Rivers in his race for governor in opposition to Governor Hardman.

The governor discusses at length the policies of the present highway board and condemns its plan of building roads.

The statement in full is as follows: "The same political machine that fought me two years ago in the primary campaign, and after its overwhelming defeat at the polls carried its fight into the senate chamber to obstruct a reorganization of the highway department which I advocated and the people approved, is fighting me again this year."

"It is the same old wolf, as vicious

POLICE SEEKING WOUNDED BURGLAR

Woman Opens Fire When Man Attempts To Enter House Where Mrs. Ingram Was Murdered.

Detectives early this morning were keeping watch over hospitals of the city in the hope of apprehending a man, believed to be badly wounded, who was wanted on an attempted burglary charge.

The man sought by the officers is said to have tried to enter a home at 767 Ashby street N. W., which is occupied by Mrs. Ola Hammett. It was in this house that Mrs. Lottie Bell Ingram and her small child were murdered. For this crime Harold Hammond recently paid the death penalty in the electric chair at Milledgeville.

Mrs. Hammett told Captain Grover C. Fain and Call Officers Claude Carroll and H. A. Hardy, who investigated the attempted burglary, that she was awakened late Tuesday night by a noise at the rear door of her house and that when she went to the door she found a white man trying to enter.

She opened fire with a revolver, sending four bullets through the door. She claims she heard the man groan as he ran from the house and the officers found blood stains on the screen of the rear door and also on the back porch.

With Mrs. Hammett at the time of the attempted burglary were her two daughters, Florence, 12, and Lillie, 7.

SMITH TO ANSWER STRATON'S ATTACK IN CHURCH PULPIT

Pastor Accepts Dare of Presidential Nominee to Debate After Attack During Sunday Sermon.

Albany, N. Y., August 7.—(AP)—Demanding proof of the charge and the right to reply, Governor Smith today took Rev. Dr. John Roach Stratton to task for the reported declaration from his pulpit in Calvary Baptist church in New York Sunday that the democratic presidential nominee "as a public man" is "the deadliest foe in America today of the forces of moral progress and true political wisdom."

Smith in a caustic letter to Stratton requested "in a spirit of American fair play" that he be invited to the clergyman's church and given an opportunity to be heard on his side of the question. He promised to answer any questions Dr. Stratton might put to him regarding his public career.

The letter of the governor to the New York minister was given out by Smith personally to newspapermen, one of whom remarked:

"He'll take you up on that."

"That's what he's getting this letter for," Smith rejoined.

Text of Letter.

The text of the governor's letter was:

"Dear Dr. Stratton:

"The New York Times of Monday, August 6, quotes you as saying from the pulpit of your church that as a public man I am the deadliest foe in America today of the forces of moral progress and true political wisdom."

"I do not know why you should make a statement of that kind, but I do know that I never will permit myself to be called a 'deadliest foe' of anything of which I am proud."

"I have spent 25 years in the service of the state in elective office and the record of that service is open to the public. I do not feel that I should charge you with making this statement for any political purpose, as it was made in a church devoted to the teachings of Christ, and of which I am a member."

"I do not bear false witness against my neighbor."

Smith's Demand.

"I therefore ask you, in a spirit of American fair play, to invite me to your church at any time that suits your convenience during the week inclusive of and beginning September 2 and I will come. I will be glad to state in my presence with same proof of its truth as you may be able to advance. I further ask that you permit me to make full reply to any question you may put to me which, in your opinion, will in any degree tend to justify your remarks."

"For eight years I have been the governor of the state of which you are a resident, and I am firmly convinced that you owe it to me to give me an opportunity to be heard before your own congregation on the statement that you made about my political career."

"Very truly yours,

(Signed) "ALFRED E. SMITH."

Ship Lands at Anderson, S. C.; Trip To Be Re- sumed Today.

King Cotton's first airplane ride, which started auspiciously Tuesday afternoon at Candler field when Pilot R. L. C., on account of darkness.

The bale of cotton, destined for delivery in New York to John J. Raskob, chairman of the democratic national committee, to be auctioned off there for the benefit of the democratic campaign fund, was placed in an automobile by Pilot Stephens and sent to Spartanburg, S. C. The pilot will fly from Anderson to Spartanburg this morning, get the cotton and proceed to New York, the Anderson field being too small to take off with the cotton aboard. It is expected that the plane will reach New York this afternoon with what promises to be

MURDER VERDICT REFUSED BY JURY

Butcher Boy's Motive in Killing of Rich Society Woman Is Doubtful by Coroner's Investigation.

Los Angeles, August 7.—(AP)—An "open verdict" accompanied by the statement that it could ascribe no motive for the slaying, was returned by a coroner's jury today investigating the death of Mrs. Myrtle L. Mellus, wealthy society woman, slain Sunday. District attorney's officers and police said they were "amazed at the verdict."

The incoherent story told by Leo F. Kelly, 29, meat cutter, of a drinking party which preceded a quarrel and then a drunken stupor was before police today in their attempt to solve the murder of Mrs. Myrtle L. Mellus in her home Sunday.

Kelly was captured while hiding in a maid's clothes closet an hour after the woman's husband, Frank Mellus, business man, returned and found the nude and battered body lying across a bed. A formal charge of murder was lodged against him yesterday.

The suspect admitted, according to police, having given the woman, whom he said he loved and had called on circumpectly for five years, a terrific beating before stupefying over-

G. O. P. FARM HEAD WILL BACK SMITH

Second Leader To Bolt Republican Party in November; F. W. Murphy Announces His Decision.

New York, August 7.—(United News.)—Another farm leader and former republican, Frank W. Murphy, of Wheaton, Minn., came out for Governor Alfred E. Smith tonight.

Murphy has been associated in the fight for the McNary-Haugen bill with George N. Peck, of Illinois, chairman of the corn belt committee, who recently endorsed the democratic candidate.

He was a delegate to the Kansas City convention and took the floor with a warning that failure to adopt a satisfactory farm relief plank would drive the farmers from the republican party. Murphy is a lawyer and a farmer, owning farms comprising about 5,000 acres, and is chairman of the legislative committee of the corn belt farm organizations, representing some 30 or 40 farm organizations in the middle northwest.

Murphy said he is opposed to Herbert Hoover "because of his unsympathetic attitude toward agriculture." He blamed the republican candidate and his friends for preventing endorsements of the equalization fee principle at the republican convention.

"The principle of requiring the commodity benefited to bear the cost of handling the surplus is fundamental and indispensable in surplus control legislation," Murphy said in his statement.

The democratic convention endorsed this principle and Governor Smith has emphasized his adherence to it. This is interpreted as a definite pledge to give the farmers what they want and must have."

Murphy's declaration for Smith gave rise to enthusiasm at democratic headquarters, where it was felt there is an exceptional chance of win-

LONE BANDIT LOCKS GROCER IN ICEBOX, VANISHES WITH $103

An extremely "cool" hold-up occurred early Tuesday night, when a lone, white, unmasked young man walked into the Atlantic & Pacific Tea company store at 834 Juniper street, and forced O. G. Moore, the manager, and his assistant, Leon Stamey, to walk into a large ice-box where meat is stored and wait there until the cash in the store had been gathered up.

According to police reports, the bandit escaped with $103 which was lying on the counter. The manager was counting the day's receipts when the intruder entered. Call Officers Ginn and McGarrity investigated.

West Palm Beach, Fla., August 7.

(AP)—The tropical storm which swept from the Bahamas today to lash the Florida mainland moved slowly northward along the coast tonight with hurricane force, wreaking extensive property damage and endangering shipping from Delray Beach north.

Two vessels were reported in distress as the hovering storm center, drawing winds of 60 to 75-mile velocities, swept up mountainous seas. Heavy damage was visited upon the Palm Beaches and along the shoreline to Jupiter light beyond which there was little communication late tonight.

While the winds which had blown at a 60-mile rate since early afternoon were abating here at midnight, radio messages were received from the steamer Algonquin and the Honduras steamship Lempra, both located near the center of the storm, relating distressed conditions.

The Algonquin, bound from Galveston to New York, with 300 passengers, reported its bearings lost and the radio station at Miami was appealed to keep the ship from running aground off Jupiter. The Lempra, crippled by the heavy seas, and stripped of

CHICAGO MAIL LINE SERVICE AWARDED

Institution of air mail service between Atlanta and Chicago shortly after the first of next year was seen Tuesday in the award of the contract for the service to the Interstate Air Line, Inc., an organization formed by a group of Chicago business men a year ago. Lawrence W. Scudder, president of the company, said that the organization will start with around seven planes in service.

E. W. Romberger, of Atlanta, was the lowest bidder for the contract, but Romberger's bid of 85 cents per pound was thrown out "because the bidder failed to file a satisfactory statement as to his financial responsibility to handle the important trunk line that the Chicago-Atlanta route is expected to become and because the bond furnished by him was held to be defective." Postmaster General Harry S. New announced in wire dispatches.

78 Cents Per Pound.
The bid of the Interstate Air Line was 78 cents a pound. This company was formed with the Atlanta mail contract as its immediate objective, and was incorporated at $250,000, according to advices from Chicago. Charles G. Dawes, nephew of Vice President Charles G. Dawes, is one of its backers.

The contract requires that the route be placed in operation within six months from the date of award. However, Postmaster General New announced Tuesday, it is quite possible that the department, in view of the increased air mail traffic expected to result from the new five-cent rate, will require operation before the expiration of the six months period.

In such a contingency, the route will be placed in day time operation until the department of commerce completes the lighting of the airway for night flying. Mr. New said. The survey for the lighting is practically completed, but the lights will probably not be installed in less than six months.

Schedule of Planes.
The schedule of night flying will call for, on the new trip, departure from Chicago at 9:30 p. m., with stops at Terre-Haute and Evansville, Ind.; Nashville and Chattanooga, Tenn.; and Atlanta at 4:50 a. m. the following morning. The plane will leave Atlanta for Chicago at 9:30 p. m. and reverse the route, arriving at Chicago the next morning. A branch of the line will leave St. Louis at 10:55 p. m., connecting with the Chicago-Atlanta route at Evansville shortly after midnight.

The Chicago route will give Atlanta quicker service to the middle west and west and link up here with routes to New Orleans and through the Carolinas toward New York. Later, when the Miami route is started in operation, Atlanta will have air mail service to four points of the compass. Pictorial Aviation, Inc., now operates the New York service, and will put the Miami service into effect in the near future. The St. Tammany, Gulf Coast Airways company operates the New Orleans service.

City and County Notables Attend Thirtieth Annual Birthday Barbecue of John S. Heard, Hale at 93

County and city officials congratulate John S. Heard, prominent Fulton planter, on the occasion of his ninety-third birthday, at his thirtieth annual barbecue at the Heard homestead in north Fulton. Back row, left to right, Captain George M. Hope, Walter B. Stewart, Edwin F. Johnson, all county commissioners; Mr. Heard, Mayor I. N. Ragsdale; Charles M. Shelton, county attorney. Kneeling, left to right, Judge Jesse M. Wood, of the criminal court of Atlanta; Howard McCutcheon, councilman from the second ward; W. B. Cody, city fire chief, and Judge Thomas H. Jeffries, of the county court of ordinary.

In the best of health and spirits on his ninety-third birthday, John S. Heard, prominent Fulton county planter, Tuesday welcomed several hundred guests to his traditional birthday celebration.

A lavish barbecue was spread on tables under shade trees at the homestead, where Mr. Heard has resided for 40 years past, and where he has entertained family and friends on 30 successive birthdays.

As has been their custom for several decades, county and city officials attended the noonday dinner almost en masse.

Knows Section's History.
Mr. Heard was born in the vicinity of Sandy Springs, and has acquired an interesting fund of information concerning the early days of Fulton, Henry and DeKalb counties, which corner close to the homestead.

He is a veteran of the war between the states. There were 23 children by his two marriages, and his granddaughters and grandsons are legion.

A son of Mr. Heard's, Carl Heard, is connected with the tax receiver's office, and another, J. S. Heard, Jr., is the Fulton county bond clerk.

While numerous neighbors, relatives and acquaintances rallied to the celebration, the assemblage was composed largely of men in public life here. Among them were:

Public Figures Present.
Mayor I. N. Ragsdale, Walter B. Stewart, chairman of the Fulton county commission; County Commissioners Edwin F. Johnson and Captain George M. Hope; Solicitor General John A. Boykin; Judge Virgil B. Moore, of superior court; Judge Jesse M. Wood, of the criminal court of Atlanta; Judge Thomas Jeffries, of ordinary's court; Fire Chief W. B. Cody, and Howard McCutcheon, councilman from the second ward.

After the dinner, Mr. Heard was presented with a cane, the gift of his son's associates in the tax collector's office, and with a $10 gold piece from Solicitor General Boykin and his staff.

Guy Moore and Joseph F. Pelot, attached, respectively, to the collector's office and solicitor's office, made the presentation speeches.

SOUTH PROSPERITY LURING BUSINESS

Charlottesville, Va., August 7.—(AP)—The south is now the focusing point for the investment and development forces of America, Richard H. Edmonds, editor of the Manufacturers' Record, said in an address before the University of Virginia Institute of Public Affairs.

"It has accumulated capital and no longer has to stand hat in hand as for many years begging outside financial help," Mr. Edmonds said. "Regimental optimism rules throughout the south, and equal optimism rules throughout the north and west as to the future of the south."

Southward the star of human achievement in education, in religious advancement and in material prosperity takes its way.

"The greatest resource of the south—greater than all its coal and iron and water power—is the inherited strength of character, manhood and womanhood, managerial ability and industrial traits of southern people."

"Here is an asset which is being utilized to turn its hitherto latent wealth in raw materials into active creative work and almost boundless wealth. Here are the forces that are rapidly advancing the educational interests of this section."

The south of today is merely a renaissance of the wonderful old south, whose achievements history will record as among the greatest in all human affairs.

Mr. Edmonds called attention to a warning to Pennsylvania iron men years ago by Colonel A. K. McClure, saying "you cannot war against destiny" and that "Alabama has been gifted far beyond the boasted empire of Pennsylvania."

The fulfillment of this is seen, he said, in the exportation of Birmingham steel from Mobile and the fact that 85 per cent of Alabama's iron is consumed in diversified industries of the south, whereas it was formerly shipped to the north and west.

Texas, he said, produces 85 per cent of the sulphur in the world; 63 per cent of the total oil production of the country is in the south; Georgia granite is being used to build highways in Cuba; marble from Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama and Maryland is going into structures everywhere east of the Rocky mountains; southern brick is pushing its way into New York city and as far west as St. Paul; and the leading milk and cheese-making industries are turning toward the south.

Advancement in Schools.
"The population of the south is at present a little over 40,000,000 as compared with 75,994,000 for the United States in 1900," he said. "But the expenditures for public schools by southern states in 1926 amounted to $425,000,000, or almost exactly twice as much as the public school expenditures in the United States in 1900."

"The south is now mining considerably more coal than the United States mined in 1900. The value of its mineral products is twice as great as that of the country in 1900. Its farm products in 1927 exceeded in value by $855,000,000 the farm products of the whole country in 1900. Its export trade is now running far ahead of that of the United States in 1900 and its deposits in 1927 were in excess of the total bank deposits of the United States in 1900."

Wife, 32, Who Killed Husband, Blames Gossip of Neighbors

SMOKES CIGARETTES, TELLS OF SLAYING

BY EDWARD C. DERR.
New York, August 7.—(United News).—The highly respectable suburban neighborhood known as Sunnyside learned today that "innocent" neighborhood gossip may lead to tragedy.

For as Mrs. Frances Kirkwood, comely matron of 32 years, sat in the district attorney's office and confessed she had murdered her husband by slashing him with a bread knife, she blamed the whispering of neighborhood gossips for the situation which led to the killing.

And this afternoon the "whispering neighbors" were startled by the shouts of newsmen who hurried frantically up and down the streets of Sunnyside, shouting "murder" and "extr."

Mrs. Kirkwood, who was previously married and divorced and the mother of a 12-year-old boy, made her confession calmly. She consumed a half-dozen cigarettes and stopped occasionally to freshen the fading rouge on her face as she told her story, first to police officials and then to District Attorney Richard Newcombe.

The murdered husband, Dr. Glenn Kirkwood, was known throughout the metropolitan district for his radio lectures on the care and treatment of dogs and cats and other household pets. He conducted a veterinary hospital not far from his home.

Mrs. Kirkwood, six years her husband's senior, had just returned last Saturday from a three-week vacation at Lake Ronkonkoma. No sooner had she returned than neighborhood whisperers reached her ears. In neighborhood stores, on the street, even on her own doorstep, she heard reports that her husband had been conducting himself in a manner unbecoming a model husband. He had, in fact, been entertaining women guests in the Kirkwood home and the sounds of revelry had been heard on several occasions long after midnight.

After listening to these reports for two full days Mrs. Kirkwood confronted her husband with the stories. He stoutly denied the gossip and at first she was satisfied. But she heard more reports and so she asked him again. He soon became irritated and ceased to deny the gossip. Instead he assumed an attitude of calm indifference.

It was this indifference, Mrs. Kirkwood told authorities, that incited her jealous rage, and so at 5 o'clock this morning, after a long night of heated argument, she slipped out of her bed, threw a dressing gown about her shoulders and went downstairs to the kitchen. Dr. Kirkwood followed her, insisting that she come back to bed.

"In the kitchen she picked up a bread knife and started back. She met her husband at the kitchen door and struck out at him with the knife. She slashed him again and again and he fell to the floor screaming with pain."

As he fell Mrs. Kirkwood realized what she had done and ran from the house, shouting for a doctor.

"I've killed my husband," she cried, running up to the next corner just at dawn.

She met a policeman, who accompanied her back to the house, attempted to relieve Dr. Kirkwood's suffering, and summoned an ambulance. He died shortly after 8 a. m.

Mrs. Kirkwood was taken to police headquarters and then to the district attorney's office, where she made her confession, blaming neighborhood gossip for the tragedy.

Mrs. Kirkwood was arraigned late today on a charge of homicide. A hearing was set for Friday.

She was then taken to the Queens county jail, where she was placed in a cell once occupied by Ruth Brown Snyder, who died in the electric chair for the murder of her husband.

Mrs. Kirkwood was nervous and paced her cell, smoking many cigarettes. Police said she would be denied use of cosmetics while in jail.

COURTNEY'S PLANE PICKED UP AT SEA

New York, August 7.—(AP)—Captain Frank T. Courtney and his three companions in the trans-Atlantic flight attempt of the seaplane Whale adjusted differences with the department of immigration today and set about enjoying their first full day as heroes of New York.

Captain Courtney received two immigration officers in his suite at the Ritz Carlton and was told that regulations which would have made him report to Ellis Island because he and his companions had not met inspectors when arriving yesterday, had been waived by Benjamin M. Day, immigration commissioner.

"My understanding is that they arrived as temporary visitors and planned to return to England within a very short time," Day said, commenting on the "illegal" entry of the men, Courtney and E. B. Hosmer, backer of the flight; Hugh Glinnour, radio operator, and Fred Piege, mechanic, were removed at quarantine from the Minnewaska, which rescued them at sea, to the municipal tug Macom of which they were taken to the battery for the start of their reception by the city.

While Courtney and his companions were guests at a luncheon of the British chamber of trade and enjoyed a sight-seeing trip about the city, word came to New York that the Whale, abandoned at sea after fire aboard forced the airmen down, had been picked up. August Hansen company, local agent on the Lloyd Mediterranean line, said the Italian steamer Valgrato, bound from Benisaf, Algeria, to Sydney, Nova Scotia, has lifted the crippled plane from the ocean.

Courtney and Hosmer would like to try the trans-Atlantic flight again. They said if ships let their flying boat drift unmolested it would have floated to the Spanish coast and be available for another try.

Plans for the fliers' stay in America are indefinite, Courtney said. He said he would like to fly to the Pacific coast, but this suggestion did not seem fully feasible.

Valdosta, Ga., August 7.—(Special.) R. L. Hudson, Sr., and his son, R. L. Hudson, Jr., are to be tried here in October for the alleged murder of Lawton Carroll, who was shot during a raid two years ago.

The Hudsons were engaged in the prohibition enforcement work when Carroll was shot, his death resulting three weeks afterward at a local hospital. The two men were indicted by the Lowndes county grand jury and afterwards the case was transferred to the United States court when Bascom Deavers was district attorney. It is understood that Judge W. H. Barrett of the southern district will preside in the case, Judge Deavers being disqualified through his connection with the district attorney's office at the time of the transfer of the case from the state courts.

Tucker walked up on the porch of a negro boarding house where his wife and his brother-in-law were sitting and with barely a word started the assault. Later he returned to the scene and a negro man struck him in the face with a thrown brick, stunning him, and he was taken charge of by policemen who arrived a few minutes later.

RIVERS CONDEMNS HARDMAN ACTION IN THOMPSON CASE

Canton, Ga., August 7.—(Special.) Senator Ed Rivers, candidate for governor, delivered a vigorous campaign address here today to a large and enthusiastic crowd which filled the courtroom and overflowed the aisles and steps. The speaker was greeted with applause at times during his speech and was given a splendid ovation at the conclusion. He outlined a constructive program for the state and declared the failure of Dr. Hardman goes together with the fact that Dr. Hardman has now adopted a part of his platform.

The senator made reference to the Clifford Thompson case as evidence of the autocracy of the governor and the lack of feeling for the common people.

"What harm could have been done the state or society by sparing this man's life a few days to have permitted a check-up of the newly-discovered evidence in that confession?" Senator Rivers asked, and then added: "Of course he was a poor man living in the rural districts of the mountains, unable to employ experts and counsel of state-wide prominence, but that should not have mattered if a governor understanding the feelings of the masses of the people and their poverty. Then the ridiculous part of it is the autocratic and superhuman declaration by the governor to the effect that he looked at their pictures in newspapers and from the way they looked could tell there was nothing to the confession."

"How many of us," the speaker asked, "could meet the test of guilt or innocence upon the basis of a perfect form or a shapely head?"

Sensor Rivers was introduced by M. G. Grady Vandivier, senator-elect from this district, who spoke in high terms of the record of the speaker.

OPEN NEW BRIDGE ON WITHLACOCHEE RIVER TO TRAVEL

Valdosta, Ga., August 7.—(Special.) The new bridge over the Withlacoochee river at Horns ferry was opened to travel yesterday, although the bridge has not been fully completed. The old bridge washed away by the spring freshet and work was rushed on the new bridge to get it ready for use during the tobacco season. The new bridge is much larger and stronger than the old one and the engineer planning it is of the opinion it will stand all onslaughts of high water. The approaches have been so arranged that the embankments will not hold such a volume of water as will endanger the bridge in future.

The young woman is said to have been despondent over a love affair, the drug having been swallowed by her at her home on East Lamar street. A few minutes after taking the drug Miss Simmons told a friend with whom she was talking she had taken five grains of morphine in an effort to end her life. She secured the drug, it is said, several months ago from a relative who died recently and had kept it in her trunk since that time. ## TOBACCO MARKETS SHOW UP TREND

Moultrie, Ga., August 7.—(AP)—When today's tobacco sale opened more than 300,000 pounds of leaf was on the floors of the two warehouses, offerings being heavier than they have been any day since the initial auction of the season. Little change in price was apparent, but growers were somewhat encouraged by the fact that big domestic concerns were more active than they have been to date. Some of the best tobacco ever sold here was on the floors today.

CAROLINA MARKETS OPEN.

Florence, S. C., August 7.—(AP)—With indications of record offerings the tobacco markets of the eastern South Carolina belt opened today. Low prices in comparison with last year appeared to rule on all the markets.

POLICE START WAR ON OBSTRUCTING SIDEWALK SIGNS

Chief of Police James L. Beavers has issued orders to his men to make a list of all business houses that were violating the city ordinance governing signs or other obstructions on the sidewalks.

The ordinance forbids any sign or other obstruction to be lower than eight feet above the sidewalk, and protruding more than 18 inches from the building, unless a special permit has been issued by the city.

The order was issued by the chief at the request of City Attorney James L. Mayson, and it is believed that it will mean the removal of more than 100 signs scattered throughout the city.

PARKER PEN AGENTS CONVENE IN ATLANTA

Representatives of the Parker Fountain Pen company from ten southeastern states assembled at the Biltmore hotel Tuesday for the regular semi-annual sales conference. The meeting was planned to discuss operations during the fall and winter, and to instruct the sales force as to the merits of two new Parker products.

The conference also serves to introduce W. L. Clark, of Chicago, who is to take the place of H. L. Blackman as general sales manager. Mr. Blackman is resigning from the department after 12 years of active participation. Both Mr. Blackman and Mr. Clark are touring the country, attending each of the seven regional conferences. The purpose is to become personally acquainted with the personnel of the company and to become familiar with sales methods in different sections of the country.

It was reported that the national sales of the company had increased 20 per cent in the month of July over the corresponding month last year, and that the Atlanta territory had shown a sales growth of 30 per cent. J. R. Rhodes, southeastern manager, is in charge of the Atlanta office, which has been in operation for two years.

300 Tots Given All-Day Outing By Exchange Club

Nearly 300 children from the public homes of Atlanta and vicinity were entertained Tuesday by the Exchange club in its annual "Sunshine Special" picnic and outing. Under the supervision of William E. Arnaud, chairman of the outing committee and a score of active clubmen, the little guests were treated to an all-day round of pleasure and entertainment.

Activities started early in the morning, when the children were driven through the downtown streets of Atlanta in the automobiles of the Exchange club members and of many other kind-hearted citizens. Led by the Atlanta Police band, the parade left in an uproar that continued until the cars reached Idlewood park, where the picnic was held.

When the party reached the park, children of all sizes and ages scattered about, doing just exactly what children of all sizes and ages are used to doing. There were baseball games and other sports, not to mention the swimming, which proved most popular. Regular picnic eats, as well as innumerable good things to fill in the waiting times between, were on hand in plentiful quantities, and not a single one of the many guests was allowed to go without the things that his heart desired most.

For most of the children, the Exchange club outing was the first picnic of their young lives, and they enjoyed it as it only could be enjoyed under these circumstances. By nightfall, every one of them, tired and happy, returned to their beds just a little happier in the thought that they were living in a city where there are some really kind people.

Operation of Filling Station On Sabbath Ruled Misdemeanor

Proprietors of gasoline filling stations who keep their stations open on Sunday are guilty of a misdemeanor, according to a ruling made Tuesday by T. R. Cress, assistant attorney general of the state.

Mr. Cress pointed out that under the Georgia penal code anyone who pursues his business on Sunday, works of necessity or charity alone being excepted, is guilty of a misdemeanor and stated that in view of the fact that the supreme court of the state had ruled the sale of fresh meats on Sunday to be a violation of the law, he felt that the sale of gasoline likewise was a violation.

The ruling was made in a case presented by a gasoline dealer in Americus, where one filling station and one drug store selling soft drinks are allowed to stay open Sundays.

Have you ever seen live bacteria? See them through powerful microscopes and in motion pictures at the Food Preservation Show

August 6th Through August 11th
Frigidaire Show Rooms 252 Peachtree St.
9 A. M. to 10 P. M.

You know there are such things as bacteria which develop on improperly kept foods. But did you ever stop to think that they may be growing on the foods you serve in your home?

Unfortunately, it's a fact. The worst of it is you can't be sure, ordinarily, when foods are safe and when they're unfit for use. For if they're kept at refrigeration temperatures above 50 degrees, bacteria thrive for 36 hours before you can possibly detect them!

To show you how foods may be attacked by harmful germs, we've secured a most unusual exhibit. We show you various forms of food deterioration, revealed by powerful microscopes. You can watch bacteria, taken from milk and other foods, actually moving! And we have a remarkable microscopic motion picture... a real "thriller" but not fiction... of living organisms which are magnified 57,000 times. Then we show you how modern refrigeration is a safeguard against this menace... how Frigidaire provides the low temperatures that keep foods fresh and wholesome at all times.

Don't miss this amazing exhibition. Nothing like it has ever been shown in this city. Come in any day between 9 a. m. and 10 p. m. Bring your friends along.

EXPLORERS FIND OLD INCA CITY

Lima, Peru, August 7.—(P)—Discovery of an Inca city where no white man is ever known to have set foot is reported in a telegram from the prefect of the department of Cuzco to President Leguia.

The lost city was discovered accidentally by a scientific expedition exploring the town of Machupiccho which was found 16 years ago by a group of Peruvian and American scientists. The present expedition was organized by the Cuzco authorities under the patronage of President Leguia.

One of the explorers was in a place called Intihuatana which was an astronomical observatory. From one of the windows of the room he saw with a pair of binoculars on the top of Huaynapiccho mountain the walls and platforms of another town, the existence of which was not known. It was thought probable that no white man had ever set foot there since the mountain is surrounded by a deep ravine and its sides appeared to be extremely steep for scaling without careful preparations.

Try to Reach City.
Some of the explorers returned to Cuzco while others remained at Machupiccho and they may try to reach the "newly-discovered town."

This, they said, disappeared at the same time that the Inca empire was wrecked when the appearance of the Spanish conquerors fulfilling the prophecy of Inca priests that a day would come when white-headed men riding four-footed monsters would conquer the Sun empire.

Machupiccho was discovered 16 years ago by Hiram Bingham, now United States senator from Connecticut, who was then exploring the Olantaytambo valley under the auspices of Yale university. He was searching for the ruins of the Chokequirado palace where the Inca ruler, Mango II, took refuge after a rebellion against the Spanish conquerors.

Has Indian Name.
Chokequirado has attracted the attention of many scientists and explorers because of its Indian name which means golden cradle and because it was thought that the last direct successor of the Incas had hidden his fabulous wealth there. While Mr. Bingham was climbing a steep hillside on the Urubamba canyon he unexpectedly discovered Machupiccho which had been hidden by a dense jungle for centuries.

The Cuzco authorities reported that after opening new roads through the tropical jungle the Peruvian exploring party arrived at Machupiccho. They found the town to be of the magnificent period and one of the most wonderful examples of Inca grandeur in its imposing solitude among the high and eternally snow-capped mountains.

At a series of conferences of congressional nominees early in the day, however, the situation was discussed and according to reports emanating from the meeting, there was no lack of harmony when Barkley was selected.

Mrs. Stanley Reed, of Maysville, and Mrs. F. O. Young, Lexington, were named vice chairmen. All three party leaders were recommended to the two governing groups by the permanent organization committee of which Vice Governor, of Hopkinsville, is acting director.

New Orleans

Metropolis of the SOUTH
New Orleans, as the gateway to the world's richest valley, is served by 10 railroad trunklines connecting directly the markets of 35 states; by 90 steamship lines radiating to all ports of the world's seven seas; by 13,000 miles of inland waterways; and is an ideal distribution center. It has approximately 1200 manufacturing plants sending out 900 different products. It is the Nation's Second Port, and First Port in the movement of bananas, bur-lap, sisal, oil, and forty-two other products.

With the assurance of Federal Flood Control giving the investors in New Orleans new opportunities and attracting new residents to New Orleans because of its advantage of location jointly as the South's greatest city and the Valley Gateway, there will be many new enterprises having to do with industry and distribution.

Many of the large industries now located here report that their production costs are lower than those of their branches in other American cities, chiefly for the reason that the United States Government has found the cost of living to be lower in New Orleans than in any other large city, except one.

These are some of the reasons why new projects calling for a total expenditure of nearly $3,000,000 have been listed recently by the New Orleans Association of Commerce.

HARDMAN 'BUYING' JOB, SAYS RIVERS

Charges that Governor L. G. Hardman is "trying to buy the governorship" were made Tuesday by State Senator E. D. Rivers, who is opposing the governor in his race for reelection.

Senator Rivers said he has been making this charge two or three times each day and that the governor made no reference to it in his opening campaign speech at Cordelle, and also stated that "the governor's paid political experts" have dodged the issue.

The statement of Senator Rivers is as follows:

"In my speeches throughout the state and in the public press I have openly charged Dr. Hardman with buying the office of governor. In his opening speech at Cordelle he studiously avoided reference to the charge. Likewise in the propaganda being submitted to the people through the columns of the newspapers his paid experts have dodged the issue."

"I submit that in the face of the public charge being made by me two or three times each day that it is high time that Dr. Hardman explain to the people the necessity for the expenditure of the money to secure his election two years ago."

"The sanctity of the ballot is at stake, and its preservation is one of the foremost issues in this campaign."

"We have recently witnessed the outrageous buying and selling of public office in Georgia. We have seen a bunch of gangsters buy their way into the confidence of a president of the United States and sell public property for a profit."

"We have witnessed two men buy their way to the door of the United States senate, to be sent home with only a guilty conscience to report them."

"When these things happened we threw up our hands in holy horror at the state of affairs in our national politics. None of us believed that such a thing could ever happen in the good old state of Georgia."

"Bought" Election Charged.

"Yet one of the candidates for the office of governor in the primary two years ago has openly declared that in his speeches he drove the votes away from another candidate, and that Dr. Hardman came along behind him with his prayers and check books working in unison and actually bought his election to the office of governor."

"In making this race I am asking the people of Georgia to preserve the sanctity of the ballot, and to teach Dr. Hardman and his kind that it is possible for man of small means to be elected governor of Georgia."

DEATHS IN TRAIN
WRECK AT MOUNDS
REMAIN AT EIGHT

Mounds, Ill., August 7.—(AP)—After working yesterday and last night removing wreckage of the Illinois Central train which crashed one mile north of here early yesterday, wrecking crews reported that no bodies remained in the battered coaches. The death toll remained at eight today.

Fifty-nine injured in the wreck were treated in Cairo hospitals, Matthews Hiller, Canton, Miss., and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Solonski, of Nashville, Tenn., the most seriously injured, are expected to recover. Others who received less serious injuries left for their homes last night and others were leaving today.

A coroner's inquest into the deaths of Mrs. Bul Snider and Joe Zdenek, brother and sister, of New Orange, N. J., brought out little additional information. The jury returned a verdict of accidental death resulting from the collision of the two trains.

BANDITS SOUGHT
AFTER LOOTING
MEXICAN TOWN

Cuernavaca, Mexico, August 7.—(AP)—Federal troops tonight were beating through the mountains in the vicinity of the town of Puente de Ixtla in pursuit of bandits who on Sunday robbed 50 automobile tourists, looted the town and robbed and wrecked a railroad train.

Dwight W. Morrow, American ambassador to Mexico, had spent the day here but fortunately had not ventured to visit the caves of Cuernavaca, which was the objective of many of the tourists who fell victims to the bandits. He knew nothing of the depredations until informed of it today in Mexico City.

Both federal forces and members of the bandit gang suffered casualties in the pitched battle in which the latter were driven from the town. The raiders stole several thousand dollars from the railroad express office beside the values and money they took from passengers in the automobiles and the train.

Clear and Hot Weather Seen For City Today

More hot weather is Atlanta's lot today, as Mr. von Hermann expects the thermometer to hover between 71 and 88 degrees. The heat Tuesday was tempered by a pleasant breeze. Showers may cool off Atlanta during the latter part of the week, the weather man said.

fair, warm weather is forecast for today by C. F. von Hermann, United States meteorologist. A storm over the south Atlantic coast controls the weather conditions here, and as a result, while people on the coast will suffer, the skies here will be clear, the weather man said. "So it's an ill wind which blows nobody good," said Mr. von Hermann.

Although the local forecast is for fair weather, the Washington prediction for all Georgia reads: "Cloudy, followed by rain."

VICTIM OF FLOGGERS
AGAIN ATTACKED

Milledgeville, Ga., August 7.—(Special).—Two witnesses for the defense in the trial of Fountain Hardy, acquitted recently in Baldwin superior court on charges growing out of the alleged flogging of James Angles, farmer, were held in jail here today following an attack on Angles.

Angles was reported seriously ill at his home near Coopersville, Ga., of knife wounds and the two men, Ollie B. Aldridge and Arthur B. Allen, were held in jail by Sheriff S. L. Terry, of Baldwin county.

The farmer had not recovered fully from a beating he received May 2 with a tack-studded thong, and for which he blamed three men, one of whom was Hardy.

Aldridge and Allen were witnesses for Hardy. Sheriff said the most recent attack on Angles occurred near his home in the southern part of Baldwin county Wednesday.

SPAIN WILL GET SEAT IN LEAGUE

Geneva, August 7.—(AP)—Great Britain, France and Germany today took action jointly to insure the election of Spain as a semi-permanent member of the council of the League of Nations. They sent identical telegrams to the league giving notice that they will ask the assembly to revise the temporary regulations of 1926 whereby a country elected to the council can be declared eligible for reelection at the moment it is first chosen.

This regulation was adopted in connection with negotiations of admission of Germany to the league and was intended to give a semi-permanent status to the council representation of Poland, Spain and Brazil.

Spain and Brazil resigned from the league because of their failure to attain permanent seats in the council, but Spain has returned and the league powers wish to insure her virtual permanence on the council by providing that the assembly may re-elect her to that body every three years.

Present rules of the League of Nations prevent the immediate reelection to the council of a non-permanent member of that body unless it has been labeled eligible for such action at the start of its three-year term.

One of the nations whose terms expire in September is China and some league officials believe that she may request the privilege of reeligibility at the meeting next month.

ITALIAN FLYING CHAMPIONS HURT

Rio de Janeiro, August 7.—(United News.)—Major Arturo Ferrarin and Major Carlo Del Prete, Italian army aviators who recently set a world's record for long-distance flight, were seriously injured late today when their plane fell into the sea off Ponta Galeas naval air base at Governador island.

The mechanic Raul Medeiros, was in a serious condition in a hospital at Sao Sebastiao where the three were taken.

Del Prete, when pulled from the water, both legs and a rib broken, raised his head, and shouted: "Viva Italia."

Ferrarin's neck was injured and he was suffering from bruises on his chest.

The mechanic had serious head injuries. He probably will recover, physicians said.

U. S. BOATS BLOCK LIQUOR VESSELS

Buffalo, N. Y., August 7.—(AP)—To use the words of a rum runner at Bridgeburg, Ontario, the rum fleet off that Canadian port is between the devil and the deep sea.

The boats laden with valuable cargoes of ale and liquor are anxious to reach the American shores across the Niagara river.

Between them and their destination is an armada of government boats bent upon preventing them attaining their objective. The Canadian government also is directly interested, for the runners are liable to seizure by the dominion if they fail to sail within the time allotted after obtaining clearance papers. For many of the boats this time will expire tonight.

The United States coast guard is maintaining close watch over the Canadian fleet but is outnumbered. There are only five coast guard craft in the river whereas the rum fleet has numbered 27. One of these was captured in an effort to get across and ten others disappeared last night and are thought to have eluded the guard and landed their cargoes on the American banks some place between Buffalo and Niagara Falls.

The Canadian boats were loaded in broad daylight, United States customs men watching at a distance through glasses. The 16 boats still awaiting their opportunity and hoping for stormy or foggy weather are huddled near an old wharf half a mile from the Peace bridge, which was opened to traffic between the United States and Canada just a year ago.

"I have directed that members of the state constabulary in citizens' clothing police Saratoga Springs," the governor advised the three officials. "If they are able to find these conditions and you and the force under you are not, it will form basis for charges looking to your removal from office."

Six Portuguese And Five of Crew Taken From Ship

New Orleans, August 7.—(AP)—The rosy dreams of six Portuguese stowaways, who longed to live in the United States where they thought they could get rich quick, were abruptly shattered here today when they were apprehended on the Italian steamship Rosandra with only their noses protruding through a huge pile of coal.

Soon after the men were captured, immigration authorities announced they had implicated five members of the ship's crew in a conspiracy to smuggle the aliens into the United States.

The Portuguese were taken on board the ship at Tampico, Mexico, last Wednesday and hidden in the coal bin where they were fed and watered by members of the crew, officials charged. When the boat reached New Orleans a search was made and the men were captured. The ship then was searched carefully and the others were found.

They will be deported.

INSURANCE LOAN TANGLE IS BARED

St. Louis, August 7.—(AP)—Interlocking loans, each of $1,000,000 or more, between Roy C. Toombs, president of the International Life Insurance company, and persons interested in the Great Southern Life Insurance company, of Houston, Texas, were revealed here today.

The fact became known when E. P. Greenwood, president of the Great Southern company, came to St. Louis to confer with those interested in the reorganization of the International Life.

Protect Stock Value.
Greenwood's purpose is to protect the value of the International Life stock, a large block of which he holds as security for a $1,000,000 loan made to Toombs last September. The stock is now threatened with loss in value through alleged removal of $3,500,000 bonds from the International company's assets.

Toombs borrowed the money from Greenwood at the time Toombs had a balance of more than $1,000,000 to pay on the $3,500,000 purchase price of the International company acquired in June, 1927, from W. K. Whitefield and associates.

The records of the International Life for 1927 show that last November 7, two months after Toombs had completed the purchase of the International, the International lent $1,510,000 to a borrower designated as "The Great Southern L. S. S. Co." as collateral it received shares of the company's stock with an actual value stated at $1,500,000.

More Stock Loans.
On the same date, the record shows, the International company lent E. P. Greenwood $600,000 on shares of the Great Southern stock with a market value of $75,708.

Toombs paid $2,000,000 of the purchase price in June, 1927, and paid the balance of more than $1,000,000, in September.

Toombs has been given until Friday by a committee representing eight state insurance departments, to return the bonds or their equivalent, or face the alternative of an investigation by the state prosecuting authorities.

GOV. HARDMAN CHARGES WASTE TO ROAD BOARD

and vindictive as ever, but clothed in a new garment.

"The state highway department, which for years has been saturated with politics, instead of being efficiently conducted along businesslike, sound and even reasonably fair economic lines, fought me in 1928 direct, with the chief of the department, while still holding office and desperately aiding his machine, my leading opponent for the nomination for governor.

"He was repudiated by an avalanche of ballots.

"This year the fight on me is by the same machine, but by indirectness. The broken cogs have been riveted, and it has been freshly oiled for the test. The same driver, however, is at the wheel, and I have it straight that soon after the opening of the campaign headquarters of this candidate for governor, the chairman of the highway board was in close conference with the manager.

"His candidate for governor is merely a stool—a pawn in the game.

"Georgia has been cursed by machine politics. This particular octopus with its tentacles reaching into every county in the state, and its big sinister hand menacingly over counties and sections that are clamoring for paved roads, some of them already practically bankrupted by the issuance of property bonds to help do state jobs that the department has not done, is more defensible this year than ever before.

"The state highway department has wasted millions of dollars of the state's road funds. After 12 years and gross expenditures of around $70,000,000, the only through-state paved highway spans the six coast counties from the Savannah to the St. Marys rivers. That road was built by a zone bond issue, which was almost unanimously adopted by the people of the zone. If they had waited for the state highway department to have built it from its enormous annual resources motorists would very probably have been floundering in mud between Darien and Chatham county line ten years from now.

"The only other stretch of completed highway in Georgia of any considerable length is from Marietta to Perry, a distance of 140 miles, about 30 miles of which, between the Bibb county line and Perry, is of cheap almost worthless construction which must shortly be rebuilt if motorists expect to use it.

"Even in this stretch of paving Fulton's link—the largest—was built without one penny of state or federal money, and if Bibb, which also built its own link, had not extracted one of the weaker counties this road would not be connectedly built today, and would never be connected under the present plan of county assessments of 25 per cent.

"That plan is indelibly wrong, and under it Georgia will never complete its road system, connecting county seat to county seat with durable, paved highways, as specifically prescribed by the highway law.

"It is an arbitrary ruling of the department, and crowded purely in the game of politics. By it the 6 and 4 vote counties can provide their quotas, but there are around 70 counties that can never provide their quotas. Hence the connections cannot be made, and the mud sectors all over Georgia will discount and destroy the value of the sectors that are paved.

"I unequivocally favor making the state the road building unit, and the reimbursement to the counties of the money that have been extracted from them, principally provided through local ad valorem tax bonds.

"The state department has not only wasted money, adversely affecting the reason of its patch-work, crazy-quilt road plan, but it has notoriously built many 'cheap John' roads, calling them completed, that last only a few months at best, requiring rebuilding, comprising enormous overhead expense, and in the unbusinesslike method of awarding contracts.

"The people of Georgia in the interest of state progress and personal economy want the entire system of state roads permanently paved, with reliable links, and at the earliest possible moment.

"Under the present road management it is obvious, however, that the people will not favor a state road bond issue, nor would they propose it, or even approve the submission of such an amendment, if the bond money had to be wasted under a political regime, rather than conserved by a business road administration.

"If the highway department is reorganized, and road construction and maintenance are placed on a business basis under the supervision of expert road builders and business men in whose hands the highway department I will heartily approve letting the people of Georgia, who are sovereign, voice their views at the polls as to whether they will support such an amendment, if the bond money had to be wasted under a political regime, rather than conserved by a business road administration.

"First of all the highway department, and the political machine it has built up through its army of employees and maintenance men, and which is being engineered by its chief for the purpose of keeping the highway department out of government, must be thrown upon the scrap-heap. Otherwise this state will never have a completed system and the millions of dollars expended annually into the road fund will continue to be largely wasted, and Georgia will continue to suffer the consequences.

SMITH TO ANSWER STRATON'S ATTACK

dealt with his own votes on social legislation, under attack from William Allen White, the Kansas editor.

Smith disclosed yesterday that he intended to study them in relation to White's charges that he was friendly to the liquor interests but threw no further light today on the uncertainty whether he will make a direct reply to his assailant.

The governor produced copies of identical letters he had written to the commissioner of public safety, district attorney and sheriff at Saratoga Springs where a racing meet is on, that if there were ground for reports that gambling and vice flourished there and they did not institute a clean-up he would take steps looking to their removal from office.

STRATON ACCEPTS SMITH'S CHALLENGE

New York, August 7.—(AP)—The Rev. John Roach Stratton tonight announced he would accept the challenge of Governor Alfred E. Smith to repeat in the governor's presence his charges made in a sermon last Sunday when he said Governor Smith was "the deadliest foe in America of the forces of moral progress and true political wisdom."

"I shall certainly give Governor Smith the satisfaction he seeks," Mr. Stratton said in a statement over the long distance telephone from Greenwood Lake, N. J., where he is on vacation.

Church Too Small.

Mr. Stratton suggested that the meeting be held in Madison Square Garden or some other large auditorium, saying he did not think Calvary Baptist church, of which he is pastor, would accommodate the crowd who would want to attend such a meeting. He also suggested that Governor Smith and he tour the south in a series of debates.

The text of Mr. Stratton's statement follows:

"I have not yet received the letter from Governor Smith but have heard the substance of it given by the newspapers. I am greatly interested in his message. I shall certainly give him the satisfaction he seeks. I feel that it is only a matter of fair play to repeat to his face and in his presence and at the time he suggested my sermon of Sunday.

Repeat Charges.
"I am willing to meet him in New York and repeat the charges. However, I believe that the discussion should be held in Madison Square Garden or some other large auditorium. Calvary Baptist church can accommodate one of the largest audiences any church in the city but it would not be large enough for the crowd of people who would want to hear such a debate. I believe it would be far preferable to hold it in some large hall. But those arrangements can be easily made.

"Inasmuch as my message was a note of warning to the southern democracy which I love so well because I at one time lived in the south, I believe it would be appropriate for Governor Smith to swing around the circle with me and debate the issues raised by my sermon in the south."

Tour Through South.
Dr. Stratton suggested that such a tour take in Baltimore, Richmond, Atlanta, Raleigh, Jacksonville, Louisville, St. Louis, Dallas and Oklahoma City.

"I feel so deeply the tremendous danger in which the southern democracy has been placed," he added, "the south has been put in a false corner by the astute political maneuvering of Governor Smith."

CREW OF SUNKEN SUB IS FOUND DEAD

against death. Against the rescuers was the weather, which until this evening made the surface of the sea boisterous, and the fact that the F-14 had sunk to a depth almost double that at which she was believed capable of withstanding the pressure. In the favor of the salvagers was the fact that the fleet on the spot carried virtually every device necessary for the task.

Within an hour after the crash divers had gone down and within a reasonably short time the exact location of the submarine was determined by observers in seaplanes circling over the scene. The divers continued at their task, made more precautions by the turbulence of the waters, until they had passed steel cables under the shattered hull. The ends of these were attached to pontoons and the F-14 was slowly raised from the bottom. Until the last moment the salvagers believed that they might win out over the gases which form in submarine when the sea water reaches the batteries.

The sinking of the F-14 with its crew is the greatest disaster suffered by the Italian submarine forces since August, 1925, when the Sebastiano Veniero disappeared with its crew of 50 men during naval maneuvers off Sicily and never was found.

LONG LIST OF SUBMARINE DISASTERS

Sinking of the F-14 adds one more tragedy to the list of those in which the submersible craft of the world's navies have figured in the past decades.

In 1925 the American S-51 was lost with 34 men, off Block Island, R. I., after collision with the steamer City of Richmond.

Other submarine accidents, as shown by the Associated Press records include:

The American submarine O-5, sunk in collision with a steamer at the Atlantic entrance to the Panama canal in 1923 with the loss of three lives.

Loss of the F-4 with 22 officers and men at Honolulu in 1915.

Sinking of the S-48 off Bridgeport, Conn. in 1922, with 22 men.

Japanese submarine on its first trial run went down off Kobe in August, 1923, with 85 men—the largest recorded loss in submarine history.

Forty-nine lives were lost when another Japanese undersea craft sank in collision with the battleship Tatsu-tsubi in 1924.

In January, 1924, 43 officers and men of the British submarine L-24 were lost off Portland, England, in collision with the dreadnaught Resolution.

The Italian boat Sebastiano Veniero was lost with 50 men in 1925 during maneuvers off Sicily.

In March, 1922, during the war games off Gibraltar, a British submarine with 23 men aboard was rammed and sunk by a British destroyer.

Another British submarine sank in the English channel in 1918, and during the war numerous German undersea boats were sunk without trace.

In 1925 the American S-48 grounded off Portsmouth, N. H., in a snowstorm and in the same month the S-19 grounded off Cape Cod, but both were floated without loss of life.

In 1925 the American submarine S-48, which had been raised and reconditioned after she had plunged to the bottom off Bridgeport, Conn., December 7, 1921, grounded off Portsmouth, N. H., but the crew and craft were saved. In the same year the S-48, which had been raised and reconditioned without loss of life.

An explosion aboard the E-2 in the Brooklyn navy yard in 1916 killed four men and injured many others, and in 1920 an explosion in the S-49 at New London, Conn. killed three men and injured nine others.

erson only about 2,000 votes in the lead over David M. Proctor, of Kansas City. Both are running as drys.

Patterson had 12,735 votes from 484 precincts reported. Proctor, 10,780; Nathan Frank, St. Louis, 4,321; Henry A. Bundschu, Independence, 1,465; William O. Atkinson, Butler, 2,135; and Bernard P. Boggs, St. Louis, 729.

Wilson was running away with the race for the democratic gubernatorial on the face of returns from 592 precincts reported, he being more than 27,000 votes ahead of State Senator A. L. McCawley, of Carthage. Wilson had 40,247 votes while McCawley, father of the Missouri "bone dry" law, had only 12,902, and Ralph T. Harding, 3,394.

Caufield was almost 3,000 votes ahead of his nearest opponent, Lieutenant Governor Phil Bennett, with 482 precincts reported. Caufield had 13,771 votes, Bennett 1,065. Frank H. Wielandy, 3,515; William R. Schneider, 2,830, and Sam D. Hogdon, 1,828.

Tabulations from the first 32 precincts out of 636 in the city of St. Louis showed Collet might cut into the lead Hay held over state. Collet was leading by nearly 4 to 1 in the incomplete city vote.

Wilson ran ahead of McCawley by 10 votes to 1 in St. Louis city, approximately increasing his lead in the 32 precincts.

Nathan Frank staged a comeback in his home city by leading Proctor approximately 6 to 1 in the 32 precincts. Patterson was running third. Caufield fortified his lead over Bennett.

REED LEADING IN KANSAS VOTE

Topeka, Kan., August 7.—(AP)—Clyde M. Reed, Parsons publisher and railroad rate expert, took a commanding lead over his five opponents on early returns tonight from the republican gubernatorial contest in Kansas.

On the face of reports from 122 precincts out of 2,659 in the state in today's primary Reed held almost a two-to-one advantage over John Hamilton, of Topeka, speaker of the state house of representatives, his nearest rival.

The vote was: Reed 1,988; Hamilton 1,007.

Hested contests for party nomination brought out a heavy vote in the Kansas primary today.

Chief interest centered in the gubernatorial race in which six republicans and three democrats contested for the nomination. There was no senatorial election and national issues were virtually nil.

The republican candidates were: Lieutenant Governor D. A. N. Chase, Hamilton, Charles F. Scott, Iowa publisher; Frank J. Ryan, secretary of state; and Fred Voland, Topeka merchant.

Ed T. Mackey, of Wellington; Jasper T. Kincaid and Chaucery B. Little, former congressman both of Olathe made a race for the democratic nomination.

OKLAHOMA HOLDS ELECTION QUIETLY

Oklahoma City, August 7.—(AP)—With interest centering chiefly in county contests, voting proceeded quietly in today's statewide primary election, an unusually heavy vote being recorded in most localities, with a few others reporting a light ballot.

The two major parties selected candidates for eight congressional posts, three state supreme court places, and one position on the criminal court of appeals.

Governor Henry S. Johnston, who was the target for impeachment charges from a faction of the legislature last winter, "stumped" the state for various congressional candidacies.

Chief Justice Fred P. Branson, running for re-nomination and who also was involved in the impeachment charges with the governor, was running behind all four of his opponents.

FOUR GIRL SCOUTS DROWN AND SIX OTHERS RESCUED

Pinedale, Wyo., August 7.—(AP)—Four girl scouts were drowned and six others were rescued from a similar fate when a boat in which they were rowing on New Fork lake, south of here capsized last night.

The children were attending a girl scout camp at the lake.

FAMED GAMBLER,
CLAIMED BY DEATH

New York, Aug. 7.—(United News.) Nicholas Forsley, known in all racing towns of the country as "Nick F.", died today of an unusual variant of blood poisoning.

Nick F. was said to have been wealthy and reports from New Orleans a year ago said he had left the winter race meet there with close to $2,000,000. His luck, however, had varied greatly during his career, leaving him at times with little money and at other times pouring millions into his pockets.

His wife, asked if she would continue in business, replied that she intended to make both partnerships permanent.

CONGRESSMEN LEAD IN VIRGINIA POLL

Richmond, Va., August 7.—(AP)—Three Virginia congressmen, seeking re-nomination in the democratic primary, continued to pile up heavy leads tonight as returns filtered in from rural precincts.

In the second district only did there appear to be a close contest, with eight small precincts missing. Representative Deal had a lead of 1,090 votes over State Senator John A. Leaser. Representative Montague, in the third district and Representative Moore, in the eighth district apparently were winning easily.

Returns tabulated here late tonight showed Montague with 4,372 votes and D. C. O'Flaherty with 802.

Representative Moore had 7,639 votes to 2,011 for H. Earlton Hanes in the eighth district and was leading in every county heard from by a substantial majority.

ANTI-SALOON LEAD PERMITTED TO VOTE

Richmond, Va., August 7.—(AP)—The Rev. David Hepburn, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Virginia, was permitted to vote in the democratic congressional primary today after his right to participate had been challenged by Floyd T. Davis, a voter.

Davis claimed Hepburn was not a democrat and had made public announcement that he would vote against Governor Smith for president. The election judges took the matter under consideration and Hepburn was allowed to cast his vote after about 30 minutes' delay.

SAME OLD MACHINE--NEW LEADER-- OPPOSES GOVERNOR HARDMAN

Governor Hardman Reveals Source of Opposition and Clearly Defines His Position.

Two years ago the people of Georgia overwhelmingly elected me Governor. I stood for a business administration, the elimination of waste, the reorganization of the Highway Department, the reorganization and reduction in number of the innumerable bureaus and departments in Georgia. I was unalterably opposed to machine politics and the domination of Georgia by machine politicians and selfish interests. Upon these issues I was elected.

The members of the general assembly were elected at the same time I was.

On July 8th, just a few days after my inauguration, I was served with written notice by a majority of the members of the Senate, of which E. D. Rivers was not only a signer but an active leader, that they wanted my defeated opponent named to succeed himself as Chairman of the Highway Department. Under the law of the state the function of the Senate is to confirm or reject—not to dictate appointments. Keeping in mind my promise to the people who had elected me, I declined to make the appointment.

Finding that I actually intended to keep my campaign promises my appointments were rejected, and, through the efforts of this bloc, the old chairman was permitted to continue in office.

Governor L. G. Hardman

fice. The majority of the members of the Senate who signed this ultimatum belonged to the old machine, the head of which had been overwhelmingly defeated.

Now the old machine has been reorganized. It has the same old members and the same old ideas that the affairs of Georgia should be administered in the way that will benefit them most personally. But—they have a new leader.

I have been in office only thirteen months. During that time I have been hampered at every turn by this Senate bloc formed at the very organization of the Senate. There can be no relief from the control of the state by machine politicians and selfish interests until both a GENERAL ASSEMBLY and a GOVERNOR are elected that will put the WELFARE OF GEORGIA AHEAD OF THE DESIRES AND SCHEMES OF SELFISH INTERESTS.

Smith disclosed yesterday that he intended to study them in relation to White's charges that he was friendly to the liquor interests but threw no further light today on the uncertainty whether he will make a direct reply to his assailant.

The governor produced copies of identical letters he had written to the commissioner of public safety, district attorney and sheriff at Saratoga Springs where a racing meet is on, that if there were ground for reports that gambling and vice flourished there and they did not institute a clean-up he would take steps looking to their removal from office.

Church Too Small.

Mr. Stratton suggested that the meeting be held in Madison Square Garden or some other large auditorium, saying he did not think Calvary Baptist church, of which he is pastor, would accommodate the crowd who would want to attend such a meeting. He also suggested that Governor Smith and he tour the south in a series of debates.

The text of Mr. Stratton's statement follows:

"I have not yet received the letter from Governor Smith but have heard the substance of it given by the newspapers. I am greatly interested in his message. I shall certainly give him the satisfaction he seeks. I feel that it is only a matter of fair play to repeat to his face and in his presence and at the time he suggested my sermon of Sunday.

Repeat Charges.
"I am willing to meet him in New York and repeat the charges. However, I believe that the discussion should be held in Madison Square Garden or some other large auditorium. Calvary Baptist church can accommodate one of the largest audiences any church in the city but it would not be large enough for the crowd of people who would want to hear such a debate. I believe it would be far preferable to hold it in some large hall. But those arrangements can be easily made.

"Inasmuch as my message was a note of warning to the southern democracy which I love so well because I at one time lived in the south, I believe it would be appropriate for Governor Smith to swing around the circle with me and debate the issues raised by my sermon in the south."

Tour Through South.
Dr. Stratton suggested that such a tour take in Baltimore, Richmond, Atlanta, Raleigh, Jacksonville, Louisville, St. Louis, Dallas and Oklahoma City.

"I feel so deeply the tremendous danger in which the southern democracy has been placed," he added, "the south has been put in a false corner by the astute political maneuvering of Governor Smith."

against death. Against the rescuers was the weather, which until this evening made the surface of the sea boisterous, and the fact that the F-14 had sunk to a depth almost double that at which she was believed capable of withstanding the pressure. In the favor of the salvagers was the fact that the fleet on the spot carried virtually every device necessary for the task.

SHAVING FRICTION

BETWEEN your fingers you can feel an important new benefit given by Listerine Shaving Cream. It lubricates the skin!

Your very first shave will prove what an achievement that is. Instead of painful rasp and pull, instead of burning friction as the razor is dragged across your face, you will experience a new sensation of easy and smooth sailing for the blade when it slides on the lubricating lather of Listerine cream.

Right at the cutting line of each hair, where friction between blade and beard is usually greatest, this luxurious cream deposits a velvety film of glycerine. This does more than soothe the skin. It prepares the path of the razor.

Cut up or down, with the grain or against it, in any direction the sharp steel edge glides as if on roller bearings, fairly wiping the whiskers off. And your tender skin is protected by that salve-like film of cosmetic lubricant.

Besides, there is no need to change your shaving habits in using Listerine Cream. Hot water or cold, rubbing-in or not, lotions or none; suit your own old preference. And you will discover in Listerine lather an amazingly quick tamer of tough beards, a cool and gentle soother of tender skins, an antiseptic healer of careless nicks and abrasions. Lambert Pharmacal Company, St. Louis, Mo.

in the economical 50¢ tube

If it were not just about the last word in shaving cream perfection, it would never have earned the right to be called by the Listerine name. So zealously do we guard the famed Listerine reputation for quality.

That is why Listerine Shaving Cream sells for 50¢ and is worth every penny of it. It is no 25¢ or 35¢ product, but a concentrated blend of costly ingredients. And it appeals most to men who appreciate quality in everything they use. Yet its economy is obvious. For the big white tube is crammed with 118 inches of velvety cream, good for 157 shaves. That's more than a five-months' supply, and makes the cost only 10¢ a month. Ask for Listerine Shaving Cream at any drug or department store.

First Bale of 1928 Georgia Cotton Sent by Plane to New York To Be Auctioned Off There for Benefit of Smith War Chest

Atlanta to New York overnight—that's what will happen to this bale of cotton, Georgia's first 1928 bale, when R. L. Stephens lands his plane without shouting distance of Gotham today. In the picture above J. Hope Tigner, secretary of the Atlanta Commercial Exchange, is auctioning off the first bale of Georgia cotton. Mr. Tigner is shown opening the bids on the bale, which was purchased by the exchange and sent to New York for the Al Smith campaign fund. Gathered around the cotton bale are W. A. Gilreath, Atlanta dealer; T. W. Tift, president of the exchange; D. D. Summey, of George H. McFadden & Co., and F. M. Inman, Atlanta dealer.

The picture adds greatly to its enjoyment. "Street Angel" played the Globe theater in New York for eleven weeks, and is now in its fourth week at the great RKO theater.

Al Morey and the Howard stage band are presenting a fast and snappy Publick hit entitled "Dancing Feet."

Metropolitan.

Clara Bow, the screen's original "It" girl, is appearing at the Metropolitan this week in "The Showdown," a story of the two kinds of love, a sacrificing love and a devastating love. She appears as a girl who loved wisely, but a little too well. Lou Tellegen and Donald Keith are the supporting leads.

Eddie Peabody, Vitaphone's banjo sensation, is again on the Metropolitan's Vitaphone program in a new act with new musical numbers. Movietone, the talking newsreel, is also a part of the Met's program.

SEARCH STARTED FOR BOY FLIER, LOST THREE DAYS
 Cleveland, August 7.—(P)—Search has been started for John Albavarez, 18-year-old Canton, Ohio, youth missing since he left Chicago Sunday flying his newly purchased airplane. John's brother, Romeo Albavarez, asked Cleveland detectives, radio stations and airport officials to aid in the search. He fears his brother crashed or was forced down in some out of the way spot along the route from Chicago to Canton. John recently completed a course in aviation at Chicago and Sunday called his mother, Mrs. Lucille Albavarez, at Canton, saying he was hopping off in a few minutes and would reach home some time before noon. Chicago friends reported he left on schedule. He has not been heard from since.

HEARING DELAYED OVER EXTRADITION OF MAN TO FLORIDA
 Columbus, Ohio, August 7.—(P)—Hearing on the application of Florida authorities for the extradition of Charles O. Wilson, of Dayton, Ohio, to Tampa, where he is charged with embezzlement of $2,938.68 from the Tampa Beach Inc., real estate concern, has been postponed indefinitely. It was announced from the governor's office today. Postponement was made to allow counsel for Wilson to investigate the charges. Wilson was liquidation agent for the real estate company, and the affidavits accompanying the requisition papers charged that he converted the money to his own use.

Here's Another Man Who's Hard Up For Something To Do
 Harrisburg, August 7.—Tudor Alex, who plans to roll a barrel from New York to Miami has received permission to traverse Pennsylvania. The only restriction imposed was that the barrel must not contain illegal beverages, nor interfere with traffic.

len Landis, southern boy, have the honor of playing the featured roles in "Lights of New York," the first all-talking 100 per cent Vitaphone picture which is playing its second successful week at the Rialto theater currently. From all indications, and judging by crowds attending Manager Murray's popular theater this and last week, "Lights of New York" is scheduled to establish a record.

Alamo No. 2.

Generally acclaimed as the greatest triumph of the speaking stage's foremost actress, "Camille," modernized for the screen, now becomes Norma Talmadge's crowning achievement. It is playing at Alamo No. 2 today. Gilbert Roland, a young Spanish actor whose portrayal of "Armand," has created a sensation in filmdom, is Miss Talmadge's new leading man.

Cameo.

"The Latest from Paris," the Norma Shearer picture at the Cameo theater today tells of a traveling saleswoman, the best on the road. None of her masculine rivals can match her success. Her personality is a mystery. All that is known about her is her name. She is especially hated by a handsome young man, who meets her on the Pullman and mistaking her identity, falls in love. He tells her all about this dreaded rival of his, and then gets the shock of his life.

Tudor.

You will see Fred Humes in one of his fastest pictures at the Tudor theater today and tomorrow. Humes would rather fight than eat, and didn't care how big they were, but when they tried to rob him—he blew up and became a cyclone. Arizona looked like No Man's Land in France during the world war. And you will see it all in "The Arizona Cyclone."

Empire.

A giant oil driller, hounded by agents of rival companies, falls in love with the wife of his brother's partner while they are all living under the same roof in the deep, dark mysteries of the Mexican jungles, and through rife overpowering love, announces his chances for companionship and wealth, such is the theme of the powerful photoplay, "The Showdown," starring George Baneroff at the Empire theater.

Tenth Street.
 "Tillie the Toiler," the renowned comedy feature taken from the newspaper comic strip of the daily press, will furnish the fun at the Tenth Street theater today. Marion Davies is the featured player and she handles the stenographer's part to perfection. Gee but its funny.

Greece Refuses To Aid Politicians Taken by Bandits
 Athens, Greece, August 7.—(P)—The government tonight said that in order not to set a precedent it had decided not to pay any ransom for the political candidates who were kidnapped in western Macedonia.

One of the two men taken by the brigands, M. Milonas, former under-secretary of finance, was released last night but had to walk ten hours before he reached a bus route which brought him back to a city today. He is trying to collect money to ransom his companion, Constantino Melas, a former deputy, for whom $65,000 was demanded. Milonas said that neither had been abused although they had been threatened with death should troops attempt a rescue. He asserted that the kidnapping was for a political motive.

CONDITION OF FAIR DECLARED CRITICAL
 Condition of Comer Fair, who was taken to Grady hospital Saturday afternoon after having been knocked down by an automobile, was reported as critical late Tuesday night. Six of his ribs were broken, and pneumonia, presumably caused by one of the fractured ribs irritating a lung, has set in.

HOOVER GETS NEW POLITICAL ANGLES

Stanford University, Calif., August 7.—(P)—Splitting up his time between recreation and political conferences, Herbert Hoover today got some new angles on the political outlook and some more reassuring reports on the outcome in November.

Soon after breakfast the republican presidential nominee left his home with a few friends for a long automobile ride in the Santa Clara valley. Returning for a late lunch he saw a number of visitors, including republican leaders in several states, an editor, and several business men. John Knight, republican leader in the New York state senate, the first of his callers, predicted that Hoover would carry Alfred E. Smith's home state by a substantial majority and also stated that the country would elect Hoover.

"I do not think the time has come when the people will elect Smith president," he said, adding that he based this upon the personalities of the two men and upon his own belief that a majority of the voters regarded Hoover as the man of greater qualifications for the job.

"Mr. Hoover is a man of great constructive experience," he said. "On the other hand Governor Smith has had no business experience except that he has obtained in office holding."

The governor reached the maximum of his strength in his last race for governor and even granting that all who voted for him for that office will fall short of attaining the vote which President Coolidge received in 1924. But I do not believe that all who would support him for governor of New York will cast their ballot for him for president."

Harry Culver, of Culver City, Calif., president of the National Real Estate boards, who flew here from Los Angeles to visit Hoover, expressed his confidence that the republican nominee would carry California, but said his visits over the country indicated to him that there would be a "big battle on in the country at large."

Editor Visits Hoover.
 Other callers at the Hoover home during the afternoon were John E. Pickett, of San Francisco, editor of rural newspapers, and William Marvin, a member of the republican state central committee.

The republican nominee has no engagements for tomorrow and will devote more time to the outline of the speech he is to make at his Iowa birthplace, West Branch, on August 21, in which he will deal primarily with the agricultural question.

By Thursday the advance guard of national party leaders will be arriving for the notification ceremonies next Saturday and from that time until he leaves for the return journey to Washington Hoover's time will be taken up with the political conferences, which will deal in the main with matters of extending the national organization and the character of the campaign which will be begun early in September.

HUGE FLYING BOAT GETS FINAL TESTS

Travemunde, Luebeck, Germany, August 7.—(P)—What is believed to be the largest flying boat in the world, a 15-ton Holtenau-Romar, passed its final tests successfully in the bay here today. The craft is one of three designed for air service over the North Atlantic. The other two are now under construction in Berlin.

The maneuvering capacity of the heavy boat, especially on narrow curves, gave the greatest satisfaction to its builders and designers.

The plane made several circuits of the bay at an altitude of about 600 feet and then flew out over the Baltic for an hour. She landed easily in the bay on her return.

Hermann Steindorf, holder of 20 flying records, piloted the machine. The plane has three motors of 720 horsepower each. These permit an action radius of 2,500 miles, which is about 500 miles more than the distance from Ireland to Newfoundland.

SLIGHT EARTHSHOCKS FELT IN ARMENIA
 Moscow, August 7.—(P)—Slight earthquakes were felt at Leninakan, Armenia, yesterday.

For the Men Who Are Fighting YOUR Campaign of Courage!

A straight talk with every Smith voter!

If you could read the hundreds of letters pouring in on us every day—you would know just why Alfred E. Smith has fired the imagination of a whole people. "The man," as one letter puts it, "who has once more put a premium on courage in American public life." Courage! Matched by amazing executive ability—yes! Matched by an honesty his worst enemy has never dared to question—yes! But above all—courage! Determined to drive pussy-footing from American politics. Determined to let every man, woman and child know exactly what he thinks, whether they like it or not. A man who has never left a job half-done; whose word means achievement! And with him a man of the same fibre and courage, Joe T. Robinson. These are the men you and we want every American voter to know—by press, by radio, by letter, by their own forthright words spread everywhere. And for once we want this task to be a nation-wide partnership. Your campaign! Yes—everybody's!

BISHOP DEFENDS ATTACKED PASTOR

Little Rock, Ark., August 7.—(AP) Criticism of the Rev. H. D. Knickerbocker, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, south, this city, by members of the governing boards of the church, for his repeated attacks from the pulpit on the Smith-Robinson ticket, today was defended as untimely by Bishop H. A. Boaz, of the Arkansas and Oklahoma conferences of the church, who rallied to the defense of the pastor, now on his vacation.

Denying rumors that the pastor had resigned or had been forced to take a leave of absence, the bishop admitted that Dr. Knickerbocker had requested a transfer to another pastorate several weeks ago. The request will not be acted upon, however, until the church conference in the fall, he said.

Bishop Boaz announced his support of Hoover in a statement made public Sunday and on the same day in an open letter to Senator Joe T. Robinson, a majority of the governing boards of Dr. Knickerbocker's church assured Senator Robinson of their confidence and support and expressed regret for any attacks on the senator from their pulpit.

"Even if such criticisms of Dr. Knickerbocker are justifiable they are untimely," the bishop said today. "It would not become a bishop to remove a man from a great pastorate for the cause mentioned in the article signed by the board members," the bishop continued. "Numerous members who signed the article had no idea it was going to be submitted to the press. They thought it was going to Dr. Knickerbocker and was for private use."

J. M. KENT PASSES AT LAWRENCEVILLE; WAS CONFEDERATE

Lawrenceville, Ga., August 7.—(Special).—J. M. Kent, 83, a Confederate veteran, died at his home at Lilburn Tuesday afternoon after a long illness. He had resided there for over half a century and was a useful citizen to the community. He is survived by his wife and the following children: Miss Minnie Kent and Mrs. Will Townley, of Lawrenceville, and C. J. Kent, of Fort Myers, Fla.; also one brother, Sam Kent, of Loganville. Funeral and interment will be held at Luxoumi Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the Rev. Young officiating.

"CLEMENCY DAY" TO KEEP HARDMAN FROM STATE FORUM

Governor Hardman Tuesday reiterated a previous statement that only press of official business augmented by his weekly "clemency day" influenced his decision to decline an invitation to speak in the candidates' public forum at Augusta Thursday.

Replying to opponents' claims that he had not advanced a sufficiently convincing reason for declining the Augusta invitation, the governor declared that a review of his book of engagements would reveal that he had left Thursdays open by custom since he took office.

"People seeking clemency for their relatives appear here on Thursdays with their attorneys, and I do not think it fair to them to put them off," Governor Hardman said.

Asked if he would consider acceptance for another day, involving postponement of the Augusta forum, the governor said he would not be in position to definitely accept any date at this time.

MISS WHELESS NAMED CAMPAIGN SECRETARY

Miss Clyde Wheless, attractive young woman lawyer of Douglas, will serve as secretary of the Georgia democratic state campaign headquarters, opened recently at the Piedmont hotel under the direction of John R. Slater, campaign manager.

Miss Wheless has been admitted to practice law in all state courts, including the supreme court. She is a member of Mr. Slater's law firm in Douglas.

BIG CROWDS THROG CHEVROLET PLANT

Thousands of interested visitors continued to pour into the Atlanta Chevrolet plant Tuesday to take advantage of the unusual opportunity of seeing the large factory in full operation. Entering the gates of the plant on Sawtell street, they were allowed to witness the assembly lines of the plant in full operation, and to watch the new machines as they were completed by the workmen.

The exhibition will continue Wednesday between 3 and 5 in the afternoon, and 7 and 9 at night. Visitors will be accorded the same accommodations as on the past two days of the "open house" period which closes tonight. Motorists who visit the plant are granted free use of the large parking space outside the building. Entertainment features will be provided. Guests entering the factory pass along the entire length of the plant's assembly lines, and then tour the Fisher body plant which is connected with the Chevrolet building. There are special attendants in the building who care for children while their parents are watching the automobile manufacture, officials having ruled that children are not allowed in the building.

NEW TRIALS ASKED FOR FOUR SLAYERS

Four appeals for new trials growing out of convictions for murder were docketed in supreme court Tuesday, two of them submitting bills of exceptions to verdicts of death in the electric chair for Homer Simpson and Malcolm Morrow, members of a holdup party of four which was held in the murder of C. A. Perry, Kingsland bank cashier, on February 23. E. G. Walker, another member of the quartet, already has begun a sentence of life imprisonment in Bibb county penitentiary for his part in the slaying.

Memoirs of the trial were read in the Kingsland slaying, is serving a short prison sentence. Attorneys for George Morris, filing an appeal for the alleged slayer of W. O. Stroud in Toombs county, alleged prejudice of a juror among other exceptions in papers filed in supreme court today. The juror is quoted by the defense as having said prior to his selection that he "would hold out to hang him." The state maintained that Morris fired in vengeance for the alleged inroads of squirrel hunters upon his lands. Morris is under sentence of life imprisonment.

Willie Thomas, convicted of the murder of W. H. Howell, Dodge county, whose trial attracted hundreds of people to the courtroom, was sentenced to life imprisonment for the slaying of a woman under duress. The negro was convicted on June 25 and his attorneys immediately filed motion for a new trial before Judge Eschel Graham, of Oconee circuit.

Tallahul To Hold Big Celebration For Road Paving

Tallahul Lodge, Ga., August 7.—(Special).—Signaling completion of paving operations in Habersham county on the trunk line highway through Georgia from the North Carolina line southward to Florida, a celebration will be held here Thursday, August 8, which will attract hundreds of citizens not only from Habersham and neighboring counties, but from Atlanta and other portions of the state.

A motorcade from Atlanta will join the celebration at Tallulah Falls, the local committee was advised by J. Frank Beck, of Atlanta, who is arranging the details of the trip. The motorcade will move from the chamber of commerce in Atlanta at 6:30 o'clock Tuesday morning, headed by the Georgia Power company brass band. It will reach Gainesville for breakfast at 8 o'clock, Cornelia at 9 o'clock and Tallulah Falls before 10 o'clock, for opening of the celebration, picking up delegations in automobiles from points along the route.

Following a program of addresses, in which state officials, editors and business men will take part, a barbeque dinner will be served, after which the party will be conducted on a sightseeing trip to hydroelectric plants of the Georgia Power company and other points of interest nearby.

John N. Holder, chairman of the state highway board, will be the principal speaker. Others who will take part are Governor C. B. Harrison, United States Senator William J. Harris, Congressman Thomas M. Bell, of the ninth district; Preston S. Arkwright, president of the Georgia Power company; Clark Howell, editor of The Atlanta Constitution; Major John S. ## DISTRESS FROM GAS INDIGESTION PAINS

Black-Draught Helped Bring Relief to Oklahoma Lady When She Was Suffering Severely, as Described Below.

Durant, Okla.—"About five years ago I suffered a great deal with dizziness, constipation, indigestion and gas on the stomach," says Mrs. H. J. Pierot, of this city. "The gas would get so that sometimes I could hardly breathe, and at times I would get so dizzy I would nearly fall. One day, when suffering so badly from gas, I decided I would go over to my mother-in-law's to see if she could tell me something to relieve me. She had a box of Black-Draught, and told me to take a dose, which I did. Pretty soon, the pain in my side and the shortness of breath left me. As soon as the medicine had time to act, I was feeling fine. The medicine had certainly relieved me. She told me to get a box of Black-Draught, and take just a small pinch of it after each meal, for the indigestion and constipation, which I did, and I hadn't taken a quarter of a box until my indigestion was over, and I had no more dizzy feeling, no headache, and best of all, no pain in my side from the gas."

"Now I always keep Black-Draught on hand, as I have three growing children to whom I give it, for biliousness. I make a tea and give it to them that way."

TWO POLISH FLIERS RETURN TO PARIS IN FRENCH PLANE

Paris, August 7.—(AP)—A French military plane now at Madrid has been ordered to fly to Lisbon to transport the Polish airmen Maciejowski and Kubala back to Paris.

Lisbon, August 7.—(AP)—The Polish airmen Maciejowski and Kubala are anxious to return to Paris where they started a transatlantic flight which ended when they fell into the sea. They had been ready talking of making another attempt but this apparently hinges on whether their big Sesqui plane can be repaired before adverse flying weather becomes prevalent.

They received a telegram from Paris yesterday stating that an airplane had left Le Bourget but as there was no suitable landing place at Oporto it would go to the international flying field at Algiers. The airmen and the Polish consul went to the flying field. Maciejowski said the Sesqui plane could not land there because of the strong wind.

Maciejowski said the Polish plane didn't arrive the Poles returned to their hotel in Oporto, speculating on the cause of the delay.

Maciejowski said the Poles were depressed since the disaster and smoked cigarettes incessantly while writing the story of the mishap.

San Diego, Calif., August 7.—(AP)—Ensign Clayton Schmitt, U. S. N., and Harold T. McIntire, aviation mechanic, second class, were killed today when their plane fell into San Diego bay.

Both airmen were attached to the fleet air service. Schmitt's home address was given as 1401 Mount Vernon avenue, Portsmouth, Va., where his mother resides. No information regarding McIntire was available, other than that he was unmarried.

COMMUNISM IN CHINA FEARED

Williamstown, Mass., August 7.—(AP)—Fear that communism might again raise its head in China was expressed by General Yakhontoff, a former member of the Kerensky government in Russia, at a round-table discussion at the institute of politics today.

General Yakhontoff said he had documentary evidence that the third international and Chinese communists are unwilling to let China alone, believing that the present situation forecasts the coming victory of their movement. He expressed the belief, however, that soviet Russia would not take active part in fostering communism in China.

General Yakhontoff criticized Japan's action in Manchuria.

"Personally," he said, "I have the fullest and sincerest sympathy for the economic difficulties of Japan, which needs badly an assured supply of raw materials to keep on with her industries and markets for the excess of her manufactured goods, as well as a place to dispose of the excess of her rapidly growing population. I believe, however, that the solution of these problems does not lie in any sort of annexation of Manchuria, even a very gradual one."

Organized Labor Ignores Politics

Atlantic City, N. J., August 7.—(AP) Organized labor, it is advised to continue to adhere to a nonpartisan political policy during the present presidential campaign in a statement issued today by the executive committee of the American Federation of Labor.

The statement adds that in view of the importance of the election, the committee is of the opinion that the members of each candidate, reserving to ourselves the final decision regarding our future policy during the remainder of the campaign.

The statement said:

"The American Federation of Labor has learned from experience that the best interests of its entire membership have been protected and conserved by a strict adherence to a nonpartisan political policy. This procedure requires that the platform of the political parties must be compared and the records of candidates for office must be carefully studied and scrutinized. When all such political information is made available the individual members of the organization are enabled to select candidates for office who are known to be friendly and sympathetic towards the aims and purposes of the American Federation of Labor and who enjoy the confidence and esteem of the members and representatives of organized labor."

Wisdom Is Apparent

"The wisdom of such action is clearly apparent when it is considered that the American Federation of Labor is composed of men and women who entertain different political opinions. They are not required to be identified with any party or to support any political party when they become members of the American Federation of Labor."

"After giving consideration to all these facts the executive council of the American Federation of Labor has decided that the membership of the American Federation of Labor should continue to adhere to its nonpartisan political policy during the ensuing political campaign."

"All information regarding platforms, candidates and their records should be made available to the members of the American Federation of Labor, so that they may exercise their political judgment in a way which will be to the individual and collective interests of all working men and women."

"In connection with this very important decision the executive council is taking into consideration the fact that the candidates of the two great political parties for the presidency of the United States will deliver their speeches of acceptance in the month of August. We firmly expect that each of them will make a statement in which they will make declarations of great significance to labor. We anticipate that they will express their opinions regarding the release of legislation and will amplify the declarations of the platform of the political parties relating to labor and labor questions. We will await with very great interest the expression of each candidate, reserving to ourselves the final decision regarding our future policy during the remainder of the campaign."

"In conformity with this declaration and decision of the executive council the nonpartisan political committee of the A. F. of L. is instructed to communicate with the national and international unions, state federations of labor, central bodies and direct action local unions, transmitting to them copies of the platform of the two political parties and the records of the candidates for the presidency of the United States, together with a copy of this declaration."

"Furthermore, the records of candidates of the United States sent to the different states and candidates for the house of representatives shall be supplied for central distribution through the different states and congressional districts."

Headquarters for the republican campaign committee will be established on the ground floor of the Haas-Howell building, on Forsyth street, and will be opened immediately. Mr. Hastings said. The offices were formerly occupied by Livingston & Co.

The personnel of the campaign committee were passed to the building after today's meeting, Mr. Hastings said.

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Fear you'll very often find
Is nothing but a state of mind.
—Mrs. Lightfoot.

The pond of Paddy the Beaver lies deep in the Green Forest. It is Paddy's very own pond, for he made it. Before Paddy visited that part of the Green Forest for the first time, there was no pond there. The Laughing Brook passed through there, but that was all. It was from the Laughing Brook that Paddy made his pond. He did it by building a dam across the Laughing Brook, so that the water would be stopped from running and gradually slack, making first a big puddle and then a teeny, teeny pond, and then a little bigger pond, until finally it was big enough to suit Paddy.

But that was long ago. Many of the little people of the Green Forest have forgotten that there ever was a time when there was no pond there. They liked that pond, did the people who lived in the Green Forest. They would have missed it sadly had it disappeared. Buster Bear often visited it. Lightfoot the Deer and Mrs. Lightfoot drank there. Jumper the Hare came over

THE GUMPS—'T WAS A BALMY SUMMER'S EVENING

The Taming of Elizabeth

By WINIFRED BOGGS

SYNOPSIS

The young Elizabeth, the adored daughter of Tim and Elizabeth Darcy, when she is four years old, is sent away from home to avoid punishment for getting into mischief. She is brought home promptly by a neighbor, Miss Smiley.

At 12, Elizabeth runs away again, this time from school and to the home of her Aunt Dolly, in London. Dolly, who is almost as flighty as the young Elizabeth, sympathizes with her niece, much to the irritation of her stepson, Stephen Whitty. After the death of her parents Elizabeth goes to live with her aunt. During the war they keep themselves busy and also amused by performing in amateur theatricals for the benefit of wounded soldiers. Stephen, home on leave, is asked by his stepmother to bring Mark Lennox, a young playwright, to one of their performances. Shortly after the end of the war Mrs. Whitty dies suddenly in Brighton, and Elizabeth both learns to her consternation that her aunt had frittered away the money left her by her husband, and also the share of some of Stephen's inheritance as well. Afraid to face Stephen after this revelation, Elizabeth decides to go to Mark Lennox in London and ask him to get her a job on the stage. Stephen finds her with Mark and, although his business has failed, he offers to help her. She refuses his help and advice, and takes a part in Mark's new play. On the opening night she gets stage fright, and runs off, leaving an understudy to take over her part. Miss Smiley, who happens to be in London visiting her cousin, Mrs. White, sees Elizabeth on the street and takes her to Mrs. White's house. The latter offers her a job as cook and Elizabeth accepts. But she falls in love, too, and then lands a part in a new play. Elizabeth, the grandchild of a famous actress, arranges with her cousin, William Whitty, to take over the management of the latter's business. Elizabeth grows fond of Mrs. Vestington, who shows attention upon her young cousin, but the girl misinterprets the kindness and sees a mystery about the house.

INSTALLMENT XXXIII. A FAMILY FEUD.

Elizabeth eyed Miss Lester coldly. What an odd thing to say! Still this ugly, disagreeable old lady obviously was odd, very odd indeed. Mrs. Vestington had hinted at family insanity. Miss Lester, probably jealous of the other, was her bitter-tongued enemy and full of malice. "I don't understand you," she returned.

"You will sooner later," said the old thing grimly. "Here, take this," and she thrust a card into her hand. "My name and address in London. If ever you should want to escape and not find it too easy . . ."

"Escape!" echoed Elizabeth indignantly.

"The singing wild bird wants to sing outside the cage; the mouse to escape the cat; and we'd all rather be outside prison walls than inside of them."

"O, she's quite mad," thought Elizabeth, moving indignantly away, and thrusting the card unread into her handbag. Poor, shabby old figure of fun! It was rather sad, really, and she hoped she had somebody to be kind to her and look after her.

Then she turned a radiant face towards the expected guests, and Miss Lester, after a shrewd glance at the two men, crossed the bridge to her own train.

Elizabeth dashed towards the guests. "O, I am glad you've come!" she cried breathlessly.

Stephen was astonished and not ill pleased at the warmth of her greeting. He might have been her oldest friend. The child was learning sense at last, settling down to the realities of life. Well, it was about time. He felt himself young and light-hearted.

The car and its driver amused him. Really these dead old ladies and their chariots . . . still what was a little harmless eccentricity when the kind heart was there, and no one could have been kinder, or more indulgent to her own daughter than this sweet, pretty, dainty old lady was to her companion.

"It's her happiness I want," she said to Stephen. "What does it matter about an old thing like me?"

Stephen's handsome gray eyes rested on her with open admiration. "You don't know the meaning of age," he said. "You are the youngest of us all," and he laughed. Her vitality amazed him; no wonder she preferred youth, owning quite frankly to doing so. "It's my one weakness," she confessed. "Sometimes I think it keeps me young, too." He felt quite fond of her; he liked the way she looked up to him, depended upon his strength, the quaint old-fashioned charm of her. The modern girl would not grow into anything so delightful; she would become a hard, cynical old thing; probably impatient and resentful of youth now her own had passed, not indulgent to it, full of understanding towards it, as was Mrs. Vestington.

She thought far more of him than her own nephew, whom she left to Elizabeth. "We will have the young people to amuse each other," she said laughingly on one occasion.

Stephen was not quite pleased. "I am just thirty," he said a little stiffly. "Julian he knew was a trifle his senior."

"But if you have never been young, never learned to play?"

"I see. That would make a difference?"

"Believe me, my dear young friend, it makes all the difference in the world."

"And it is too late to learn?" He looked a little wistfully at the two under the tree. Perhaps it was too late; he would look like an elephant dancing. Julian had an instinct for all that sort of thing . . . what a tragedy he drank! Or never saw him before 11 o'clock in the morning or after 11 o'clock at night, and one knew why. Odd his aunt made no effort to stop him, but perhaps it was her sense of hospitality that placed cellar and servant at his disposal.

"For some people everything is too late," she now replied to Stephen with a sigh. Yes, she was right; he could never learn to be young; he could never meet Elizabeth on her own ground. He had seen little of her since his arrival; it was almost as if she kept deliberately out of his way, or was so fastidious she was too absorbed in her flirtation with Julian. Yet not altogether that, for when there was no Julian she was always with Mrs. Vestington and he could do no more than make a trio and feel cautiously out of it.

"Pickle little jade," he thought angrily. "Last time I saw her, Lennox. Thank God it is never very serious." He certainly could not have her serious where Julian was concerned, a man without money or prospects, who drank, and whose diseased imagination was full of the most unjust aspersions towards the sweet old lady. Of course, when she dies I suppose he will get the money; but she seems no one else. It was, however, absurd to think of death in connection with Mrs. Vestington; he had never known anyone quite so vividly alive. Julian had spoken of the money himself, insisted he should learn the family history as they came down alone in the railway carriage. He even drew a diagram to explain. "It's like this," he said, passing across the paper.

"Old Julius Vestington, famous K. C., died worth 100,000 pounds sterling."

Angela (daughter) Robert (son)
William (son of Robert)
Julian (me: son of William)

"Got that?"

"Plain enough. You're the only survivor of the first Julian through the male line; your aunt, his daughter. Well, now get this: There's been a feud for years between my line and hers, and for the best of all reasons. She snuffed the lot. Instead of half the money going to his son Robert, my grandfather, it all went to his sister Angela. Robert contested the will, urging 'undue influence.' There was no proof he could establish, though he knew he was right, and he lost, and died poverty-stricken and embittered, leaving the same poverty and bitterness to my father. It was only lately, when she needed my help to procure her fresh victims, that she remembered me. She now sends me a check every Christmas—provided I conform to her wishes. So I do it, since a fellow must live, and I exist on cheap sensations for the cheap papers till the brief materializes, which may be never. But I hate her for it like hell. It's bad enough to be ground under the heel of a woman . . . well, better he dead. Nero had more mercy. She doesn't spend half her income—how could she?—but hoards it up, glad to remember I'm down and out. It amuses her. Yet she has made her will in my favor, because, though she does not trust me to use it well, yet her family pride and what conscience she's got will not allow her to leave it outside the family, and I suppose she thinks that she should return the stolen goods when she has no further use for them. But God, how she hates the thought of death! She'll cling to life for years yet and keep me out of the stuff. Probably it'll be worse than useless by the time I get it."

Stephen said little. The situation was quite new to him. Probably the money had been left to the daughter because the son was unsatisfactory and naturally great bitterness and hatred had grown out of the situation. Julian would certainly be prejudiced against his aunt and Stephen could not altogether blame him.

Julian had gone into the house for his usual pick-up, and Stephen sat down in his place, looking the girl up and down. She was flushed and sparkling and gay, but she seemed to him a little primmer.

Crackers Win Ninth of Eleven Starts; Trim Travelers, 3-2

Victory Gives Atlanta Series By 3-1 Count

Rube Robinson Retires in Favor of George Dumont in Ninth Inning.

BY BEN COTHRAN.
Mr. John Henry (Rube) Robinson, the Arkansas farmer, philosopher and left-handed pitcher, mottored and mumbled in his beard for eight innings Tuesday afternoon, while disposing of the Travelers of Little Rock, for which organization he formerly pitched, and Atlanta coasted in to another one-run victory, taking Tuesday's struggle by a 3-2 count.

Which brings to light in a manner of interesting facts, far from being fanciful.

Since Monday last, Atlanta has won five games by the margin of one run. Tuesday's victory gave Atlanta the four-game series with Little Rock by a margin of three games to one. Birmingham refused to lose to Memphis, so Atlanta is still one and one-half games behind the league leaders, New Orleans, in third place, was not scheduled, so the Crackers gained a half game over the Peds, which makes their lead two and one-half games.

Nine Out of 11.
All very interesting, you mumble into your coffee, but what of it? Well, listen to this. Out of its last 11 starts, the club of Nicholson has emerged victorious on nine of those occasions. Quick pencil and paper work reveals a percentage of .810 for that period which would say off-hand is very good. Other people seem to share our opinion, especially the good Colonel Spiller, who was quite eloquent of the Cracker record and very proud of it.

With the game over at the unheard hour of 10 minutes past four, the Crackers tumbled into their dressing room to get together road uniforms and hop up to Chattanooga for a two-day stay there, come back here for games Friday and Saturday with the Lookouts, then back to New Orleans and Monday, which begins a 14-day stay on the road when the Memphis, Little Rock and New Orleans are played in the order named.

Early ending of the game was caused by the fact that Little Rock had a game for this afternoon in Little Rock and it was necessary for the Travelers to grab busses and busses of miles in order to be there on time.

Ludolph Easy at Start.
At the start of the game the Crackers found Mr. Ludolph, slender right-handed pitcher gentleman of the Travelers, in an easy going frame of mind, so they hopped on him for three hits and three runs in the first two innings which, despite the fact that Little Rock became slightly obnoxious in the final innings, was margin enough to win.

After that second inning Ludolph wasn't such an easy mark and after Atlanta had scored only one run when the bases were full in the second with one out, Mr. Ludolph became heartened and "bore down" for the rest of the way.

Up until the sixth inning, when the Crackers scored their first run, the former mates exactly two hits, and you can't make any runs that way.

Rockers Score.
Then a run dribbled across in the sixth and another in the eighth. Klinger, first up in the ninth, pounded away to center for a single, and at this point the Skipper decided a shower would help the Rube regain his equilibrium, so out he went, and in came George Dumont, who retired the side without even the semblance of a hit and that was all.

Atlanta got two hits in the first and made two runs. There was one hit in the second and one run, and after Ludolph had pitched a couple to Zoeller in the first, the half-pint jumped on the next one with both feet, the ball sailed to right and when Frankie stopped running he was at third base. Ludolph issued his first base on balls in the eighth. Klinger, then Jim Poole, took the game at this point. Klinger taking the ball, then Jim Poole, took a sacrifice fly to center and Zoeller scored. With the hit and run on West caught the ball on the end of his bat and singled to right, Klinger taking third. The hit and run still on, Partridge grounded to Klinger, unassisted, while Gilbert scored and West took second.

It was a hot play and the Crackers seemed determined to win with the least possible expenditure of energy. Their thrift drew interest.

First Traveler Score.
Things rocked along until the sixth when Little Rock cracked the ice. With two out Elish hit to Partridge, who threw to Poole. Something went wrong and Jim dropped the ball. Oliver singled to right and here was Elish on third. Weiss singled to right and here was Elish at home with a run. So much for that.

Then in the eighth Dickey was hit by a pitched ball and forced at second by Ludolph, who in turn was forced by Elish. Oliver seized upon this happy moment to plant a double in right field upon which Elish scored again. Jones threw out Weiss at first and was all over until the next inning when Klinger got his single. The Rube retired then and Dumont finished.

INDIANS FACE LOSS OF PLACE IN S. E. LOOP

Savannah, Ga., August 7.—(AP)—That Savannah will lose its franchise in the Southeastern league loomed as a probability tonight following the departure of Cliff Green, head of the circuit, for Montgomery after he had failed to dispose of the club's interests here.

Before leaving Mr. Green announced that a meeting of the league directors will be held at Columbus Thursday and that the board will decide whether another city will be dropped with Savannah to reduce the league to six clubs or whether Savannah will be operated as an orphan club.

Mr. Green stated that only one prospective purchaser of the franchise had interviewed him while he was in Savannah and that this party had found the investment needed to be unsatisfactory to him.

Jones ended it by flying out to center.

After Ludolph had flung Andy's steaming drive through the box and tossed him out in the second inning, things began happening. Blithen, who kept up his hitting with two out of four, was safe when Klinger dropped Blair's throw.

John Henry came to bat and did the unexpected, rapping a single down the third base line that sent Blithen to second. That was bad enough for Mr. Ludolph. Then he walked Zoeller to fill the bases, which was worse. And to make it worst of all he walked Gilbert, forcing in Blithen with the Crackers' third run.

Bases full and only one out. Jim Poole, who had sacrificed Zoeller in before, strode to the plate and hoisted one to right that had all the earmarks of a sacrifice. The Rube, however, neither on third and it would have taken nothing short of an earthquake or a home run to score him again. Jones threw out Weiss at first and was all over until the next inning when Klinger got his single. The Rube retired then and Dumont finished.

HAWK-EYE SPORTS

BY DICK HAWKINS

In the Cauliflower Industry.

Things are happening rather rapidly in the heavyweight boxing limelight despite the fact that nothing of import is going to happen for some time to come. This paradoxical statement can be easily explained by a glance at the news of the moment.

First: Mr. J. Harrison Dempsey has signed (according to rumor) a contract to return to the ring as soon as he finishes the stage contract he is now inflicting the public with.

Second: Mr. Gene Tunney is going to wed an heiress reputed to be worth everything from nine to 50 million iron men.

The first announcement looks suspiciously like a frantic attempt on the part of Mr. Tex Rickard and his associates to keep the box-fight fans interested in the probable outcome of any possible elimination contest that might possibly be held in the very indefinite future.

It is entirely possible that Mr. Dempsey will return to the ring. In fact it may be necessary for him to return to the ring if he chooses to hold the pace he has maintained for many years on the income from his pugilistic efforts. And another thing—don't forget that Mr. Dempsey, without a Tunney to meet, has a very poor chance to pick up his lost title again. As long as Gene Tunney was fighting Mr. Dempsey's intention to retire could not be shaken, but with Mr. Tunney out of public battles into private ones the complexion of the matter has turned from dark blue to roseate.

If there is any egg in the business now too hard for Jack Dempsey—even on wobbly pins—to crack, then the henfruit of the industry has been subjected to considerable unnoticed boiling very recently. At any rate it's a good piece of publicity even if Jack has no more chance of fighting again than Detroit has of winning a pennant.

This matter of Gene Tunney taking the wedlock count to a few million dollars needs no comment. Why not? The scholarly gentleman, who is terribly offended when you refer to one of his "contests" as a fight, will probably be able to take good care of the millions and of the present owner as well. If the report of his marriage—the monetary report that is—happens to be true there is more proof that Gentleman Gene was once a book-keeper of parts. He can at least figure the difference between a million and two and 10 times that many.

Bearded Beauties With Us Today
Today is the day the "bearded beauties" of the House of David play baseball at Spiller's Park and we for one are becoming all "het up" over the matter. So many clippings from other newspapers, combined with a vivid memory of the team as it was five years ago, leads us to believe that much fun will be had by all.

All this press agent stuff about the clowns on the team may or may not be true. We hope it is. Certainly the boys with the whiskers are funny enough in their most serious mood and if they do execute the pranks on the field they are purported to do it should be most amusing.

 Mobile, Ala., August 7.—Nashville batted two Mobile pitchers hard and in addition Charlie Plafie pitched well all in the last game of the series and the locals lost, 31 to 6. The Vols, victorious, had his work made easy for him and gave up but six hits. Furr hit a triple down the alley and got five times at the bat. Clabaugh, for the Bears,

Denial Made of Rumors That Tunney Is To Be Married

Reports Have Gene Marrying In Scotland

Story Printed in New York to Effect That Gene Will Marry Heiress.

New York, August 7.—(AP)—Rumors that Gene Tunney, retired heavyweight champion, planned to marry Miss Josephine Lauder, of Greenwich, Conn., in either France or Scotland next month, were emphatically denied today by F. Barbour, secretary to Miss Lauder. At the same time Mr. Barbour admitted that such reports were "on the right track."

Reports printed here today were that Tunney, who relinquished his heavyweight crown following his technical knockout of Tom Heeny, would sail August 16, presumably for a walking tour, and meet Miss Lauder aboard. Several intimate friends of the retired champion are to accompany him abroad.

Miss Lauder, who is the daughter of the late George Lauder, Jr., former associate of Andrew Carnegie in the steel business and a multi-millionaire, will not return to Greenwich until September 10 from a tour with her mother through Maine and Canada. Mr. Barbour said, she plans, however, to sail for Europe sometime next winter, he said.

"The stories published today are founded on nothing but rumor," Mr. Barbour told the Associated Press. "I am not going to say, however, that Miss Lauder will not be married this year. When she does decide to marry, however, it will be announced in the proper manner."

"Mr. Tunney is acquainted with Miss Lauder just as he is with other persons in Greenwich, Conn.," Mr. Barbour said. "On the night he defeated Jack Dempsey in Chicago, Gene sent his regards to his friends in Greenwich, but if one person pays some attention to another that does not mean that they are engaged."

While Barbour admitted that such rumors were "on the right track" he would not discuss the possibility of such a marriage following the former champion's return from Europe. He said the rumor of Miss Lauder's marriage "had been discussed in the household."

Tunney now is on an automobile tour in Canada with his mother. For some time he has planned a walking tour through several European countries with Thornton Wilder, novelist. Only recently, however, has it become known that several of his most intimate friends will accompany him abroad.

New York, August 7.—The excitement among baseball fans is still as hot as convention weather in Houston. The rabid rosters want to make their plans for world's series time and don't know whether early October business should be arranged to keep them in St. Louis, Philadelphia or New York.

Several days ago Tunney assured the Associated Press that he "was not married, did not plan immediate marriage, and when I do, it will be announced through the regular channels."

Edwin Dewing, of West Hartford, Conn., August 7.—(AP)—The brother-in-law of Miss Josephine Lauder, of Greenwich, and intimate friend of Gene Tunney, denied tonight a report that the heavyweight boxer will marry Miss Lauder in France or Scotland.

"It isn't true," the retired champion's friend said. "I can't tell you any more except to say that Tunney is a good friend of Miss Lauder's. He is also, however, a good friend of mine, and my wife. I don't believe there is anything to the report."

But a ball player, from the moment the club begins paying the dining room checks, always eats as much as he can. It is true that the diet of a ball player is not as healthy as it used to be, but the club would be in a slump. It was not until Babe Ruth started eating outside of meal hours on his own money and cleaned up a few hot dog stands, ice cream parlors and chop suey palaces that he developed the magnificent stomach which caused all baseball writers to say, "No, the Yankees' deficiencies certainly are not due to diet."

There is a suspicion that the slump of the New York club may possibly be attributed to the failure of the pitchers to pitch the fielders to field and the hitters to hit. Such a combination frequently produces undesirable results. But I believe that their poor showing is due mainly to two things. One is that the Yankees are a team which refuses to take off position too seriously. The boys frequently lost along until they get their admirers in a state approaching nervous prostration and then they go to work.

The other reason they have not been going so well may be attributed to the absence of Tony Lazzeri. Tony seems to be the cement which holds the infield together and I believe that he has as much general influence on the performance of his comrades as has Ruth. The Yanks are a different team with Lazzeri missing. He never has received the credit he deserves.

The Yankees still are the best bet for the flag. Unless the Athletics take three out of those four games they have remaining with New York, and in New York, I cannot see that they will accomplish anything beyond having made a sensational and gallant effort. But there never is any telling what an ambitious and fiery outfit may accomplish. The MacKays have a chance and those fine, stout-hearted, fighting youngsters may be expected to do their fight right up to the finish line.

U.S. Swimmer Breaks Record To Win Heat

Americans Make Good Showing in Olympic Aquatic Events at Amsterdam.

Amsterdam, August 7.—(AP)—Men and women swimmers from the United States today made a much better showing in water sports than their comrades in the track and field division could boast at this stage of the big athletic carnival last week.

Thomas Blankenburg, Oakland, Calif., was eliminated in the semi-finals of the 200-meter backstroke but all the other Americans advanced. As a result of Blankenburg's defeat the United States will not be represented in the finals of the 200-meter breaststroke.

George Kojac, of New York, Walter Lauder, of Chicago, and Paul Wyatt, of Uniontown, Pa., won their heat in the 100-meter backstroke, Kojac setting a new world's record of 1:00.4.

Clarence Crabbe, Honolulu, and Austin Clapp, Hollywood, flashed magnificent performances in their respective heats of the 400-meter and 200-meter freestyle swimming. Clapp won his heat by a spectacular sprint against the Japanese. Araki, while Crabbe was in the water, was in the air.

Raymond Ruddy, young New Yorker, won a second of the best time of the day made by Arne Borg, Crabbe's time was 5:00.4-5.

Three American girls advanced to the semi-finals in the 200-meter breaststroke event although none won her heat. Agnes Gehaghy, of New York, and Jane Fautz, of Chicago, finished second while Gertrude Hoffman, of Kingston, Pa., qualified when her time, finishing third, was good enough to tie the best of any other woman swimmer placing third.

Hungary and Germany are finalists in the water polo competition. Hungary, captained by a triple with the ropes filled.

THE EXPECTED AFTERMATH

Just about the expected number of inquiries have arrived to date asking how the Dempsey of Toledo would have fared with the Tunney of July, 1928.

Most of those writing express their own opinions in advance. The majority string with the Dempsey of Toledo, but it isn't as large a majority as one would think.

"How can you compare them evenly?" asks a Dempsey fan. "Dempsey beat Carpenter in less than four rounds, Tunney in 14. Dempsey stopped Firpo in two rounds. Who would say Heeny could compare with Firpo? Dempsey stopped Sharkey in seven rounds. Doesn't that outclass Tunney's defeat of Heeny in 11? Dempsey at his best could have whipped any of them in a third of the time it would have taken Tunney to complete the job."

"Dempsey at Toledo would have been a mark for Tunney" another writes. "Dempsey had a big, lumbering, slow-moving target to maul down that day—not a fast, skilled boxer with a cutting slash in either hand. Dempsey could never make any headway against a boxer. He couldn't beat Tom Gibbons in 15 rounds, and Gibbons was barely more than a light-weight. VALUE AS FEAR HEAVY CALLING OF LOANS DECREASES TRADING IN BOND MARKET

NEW ORLEANS, August 7.—(AP)—The value of the cotton crop produced in the United States during the season just ended was placed at $1,440,514,000 by H. G. Hester, secretary of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange, in a statement issued today.

This compares with $1,230,512,000 last year and $1,550,811,000 the previous year, a record.

The total commercial crop for last season, which ended July 31, was 14,443,534 bales, a decrease under the crop of 1929-30 of 4,781,993 and 1,170,775 bales under 1928-29.

Fairly Prosperous. This year's crop, which was 4,702,000 bales less than last year, is a decrease of $210,000,000 more.

The statement said the season should be regarded as fairly prosperous, with a decided leaning to the better, Hester announced, was one of the best, if not the best, on record.

"It was middling to strict middling, with a decided leaning to the better, Hester announced, was one of the best, if not the best, on record."

Deliveries from Texas, in round numbers, were 4,033,000 bales, a decrease under last year of 1,205,000 bales.

Deliveries from other gulf states, including Mississippi, Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Tennessee, Missouri, California, Arizona and New Mexico, were 5,001,000, a decrease of 2,534,000, and from the Atlantic states, including Alabama, Georgia, Florida, North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia and Kentucky, were 4,450,000, a decrease of 2,225,000.

The entire year, the report said, has been a poor one for the cotton manufacturing industry.

Producers, it was stated, not only disposed of all this year's crop but also of 535,000 bales from past crops.

The average price obtained for the crop, based on the ten markets designated by the secretary of agriculture, was 10.30 cents per pound, compared with 12.90 last year, 10.38 the previous year, and 24.27 in 1924-25.

The value of the crop including seed was placed at $1,440,514,000, compared with $1,440,465,000 last year. The actual crop grown was 13,906,000 bales.

The world's consumption of American cotton, the report said, was 15,538,000 bales, including linters, compared with 17,388,000 last year. Exclusive of linters the secretary placed the world's consumption at 14,806,000 bales against 16,315,000 last year.
